West Marin's Judge Stice Dead At 88

Long-Time Inverness Area Jurist Dies In Petaluma

Judge Silas L. Stice is dead today at the age of 88.

Stice was justice of the Northwest Judicial Township Court in Inverness for 17 years. He was elected to office for the last time in 1958 at the age of 87, but retired from the post at the end of last year.

SILAS L. STICE
Started new career at 70

A familiar figure in the Tomales area for 64 years, the judge had made his home in Inverness since 1944. About six months ago, suffering from failing health, he moved to Petaluma where he made his home with a son, Ivan H. Stice. Death came at 8 o'clock this morning in a Petaluma nursing home. His wife, Louise, died in December, 1957.

STARTED AT 70

Stice started his career as judge when 70 years old—beyond the age at which most people retire. He insisted that "common sense and law books" were all he needed to be a judge.

"If parents would take the board and lambast the kids and make them stand around a while, that's all they'd need," the outspoken judge once said of juvenile delinquents. "That's worse punishment than the courts could give."

FLEW TO HONOLULU

A member of the Two Rock Grange for more than 61 years, Judge Stice flew to Honolulu last year on a Grange-sponsored nine-day tour.

He was born in Biblegrove, Mo., in 1871 and spent most of his life as a farmer. In his later years he continued to garden as a hobby and was noted for the fuchsias, roses and camelias which surrounded his Inverness home.

His marriage to his wife, Louise, in 1952, received nationwide publicity because both were well along in years when they revived a childhood romance while Judge Stice was visiting relatives in Missouri. It was his second marriage.

Judge Stice is also survived by two other sons, Clifford L. of Sacramento, and Wilford of Colusa. A sister, Mrs. Joe Forrester, lives in Memphis, Mo. He leaves seven grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 2 p.m. at the Parent

Bridge Board Favors 4-Lane Traffic Plan

A million-dollar program to provide four lanes of traffic across Golden Gate Bridge during rush hours was given preliminary approval by the Golden Gate Bridge District board today.

The board approved a recommendation by its building and operating committee that the general manager and traffic engineer "solicit engineering proposals on a nationwide basis" for installation of a series of traffic arches across the span.

The 13 arches, spaced across the bridge, would carry red and green lights in each lane of traffic. By changing color of these lights, the traffic sergeant could control the number of lanes in any one direction; for example having four lanes southbound during the morning commute hours and four northbound in the late afternoon.

Arthur Jenkins, traffic engineer, said his estimate of $900,000 and one million dollars for the complete project would include flaring of the roadways at each end of the span. On the Marin end this would include elimination of the dividing strip some 1,000 feet from the end of the bridge, through

Queen Welcomes Ike To Her Castle

BALMORAL, Scotland (AP)—President Eisenhower broke into his diplomatic mission to Western Europe today with a social visit to Britain's royal family at Balmoral Castle. Queen Elizabeth II made a completely unexpected appearance to the gates to welcome him.

"Well, well, I'm delighted to see you," said the queen, slim and elegant though she is expecting her third child early next year.

Eisenhower bowed and said: "Thank you ma'am. It's wonderful to be here."

It was a friendly and informal beginning for Eisenhower's overnight visit.

Surprisingly, the Queen not only came out to see Eisenhower but did it on television.

The President had driven 50 miles with Prince Philip in a car from the airport at Dyce to cheers of crowds along the way.

The queen—who danced until the early hours this morning at a castle ball for her servants—presented the President to Princess Margaret.

The queen wore a powder blue suit with shirt jacket. Her skirt snuggly hugged her hips.

The queen—whose baby is expected in late January or February—certainly showed no physical signs of it. With Eis-

Tipster Accounts For Bulk Of Robbery Loot

An unnamed informant yesterday gave detailed statements accounting for most of the $13,000 stolen in the Point Reyes Station bank holdup, Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos disclosed today.

"We are very pleased with this break in the case and the results obtained," the sheriff said.

However, information on where the money went and how much is accounted for cannot be released as yet because the Federal Bureau of Investigation has more investigation to do in other counties, Mountanos said.

He said all statements and information from the informant has been turned over to the FBI.

R. D. Auerbach, special agent in charge of the FBI office in San Francisco, said his men "still have quite a way to go." He said he has "new leads that potentially implicate other suspects."

Already in federal custody are William (Dugie) Williams, 31-year-old tree surgeon, who admitted robbing the Bank of America branch in Point Reyes Station at the point of a sawed-off shotgun on Aug. 17. He kidnaped the bank manager, dumped him off near Samuel P. Taylor Park, abandoned his car and escaped to Sacramento. On Aug. 19, he surrendered to the Sonoma County sheriff.

Arrested as a suspected accomplice was Terence Chester Corkery, 50, of Sausalito, who said he received $1,692 from Williams and hid it near a Lagunitas home. This amount has been recovered.

Ike Vetoes Public Works Fund Measure

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House announced today that President Eisenhower has vetoed a $1,206,784,549 public works appropriation bill because it included funds for 67 new projects he opposes at this time.

In a message to the House, the President said the measure "ignores the necessity for an orderly development of America's water resources within the nation's fiscal ability."

The 67 projects were not included in the President's budget. They would cost about 100 million dollars in the present 1960 fiscal year, but Eisenhower put the eventual estimate at more than 800 million dollars.

The White House made the veto message public today although the President signed it Tuesday before he left for Europe.

"By any sound test of urgency," the President told the House, "these projects should not be started this year if we are to have a responsible federal fiscal policy."

India Territory Grabbed By Chinese, Nehru Says

Communists Cross Border At 2 Points

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru said today that Chinese Communist troops have crossed from Tibet into Indian territory on two widely separated frontiers and apparently are staying.

In India's northeast frontier area, Nehru told Parliament, several hundred Chinese apparently seized an Indian border post this week after driving off a 12-man picket detachment with gunfire. Nehru said four border guards are missing.

Nehru said the Chinese also had established a camp in a remote, uninhabited border sector of the Ladakh area of Kashmir, more than 1,000 miles west of the crossings on the northeast frontier. The Chinese also are reported building a road across the area, cutting off several hundred square miles of Indian territory.

Nehur said the Chinese moved into the Ladakh region in October, 1957. The Indian reconnaissance party was sent into the region at the end of last month.

There was no indication in Nehru's statement why he waited so long before acting.

He said India had protested to Peiping but so far had no satisfaction.

"There is no alternative but to guard our borders and integrity," he declared. "We will have to be vigilant."

Nehru made no announcement, however, of military counteraction.

On the mountainous northeast frontier, Nehru said, the Chinese crossed into Indian from Tibet on Aug. 25 and fired on a picket post in the Kameng section. He said the Reds returned on Aug. 26, opened fire again, and practically encircled the border post.

The Indian border patrol withdrew, Nehru continued, and the Chinese are presumed to be still holding the position.

NOVATO CITY PLAN HEARINGS CONTINUE

Supervisors Slate Sept. 11 Session Despite Objections To Petitions

Public hearings on the proposed incorporation of Novato will be continued Sept. 11, despite the contention that some signatures on petitions calling for an election are not valid.

At the first public hearing held today by the Marin County Board of Supervisors, opponents of incorporation re-stated the charge that five title companies had signed the petitions as representing all properties being held by them, but "without authority."

Henry Lautrup, a leading opponent, referred to a letter dated July 28 received by the county clerk from Trans Western Title Co. of San Rafael, stating the company had signed the petition as representing only properties of the Crown Development Co. for which it then held title.

OTHER PROPERTIES

The letter, read to the board, stated also that the company holds title to several other properties within the proposed city boundaries which it did not intend to represent in signing the petition.

Supervisors, however, took the advice of County Counsel Leland H. Jordan "to proceed with the hearings on the assumption that the petitions are valid unless proved otherwise in court."

Bert W. Broemmel, county assessor, reported rechecking of the incorporation petitions has shown a total of 2,236 property owners signed the petition, representing 32.8 per cent of the total number of land owners and $1,779,460 of the assessed valuation—34 per cent of the total assessed valuation within the proposed boundaries.

PER CENT NEEDED

Only 25 per cent of the total property owners representing 25 per cent of the total assessed valuation is required to bring the issue to a vote. The assessor on July 20 had certified only that those minimum requirements had been met.

Broemmel said he had not, however, taken into consideration that the title companies and certain corporations may not have actually represented all of the properties as listed on the petitions.

Jordan told the supervisors that assuming the petitions meet the legal requirements, the only way opponents can block an election would be to submit counter-petitions objecting to an election that would have to be signed by 51 per cent of the area's property owners.

About 20 persons, most of whom spoke against incorporation, attended today's hearing.

Supervisors were presented with petitions and letters sign-

Slayer Suspect Indicates He'll Plead Innocent

San Gabriel contractor Robert Burdette Rogers, 37, charged with murder in the San Rafael rifle slaying of his wife, indicated today he would plead innocent to the charge next Monday.

Rogers, accompanied by attorney Gregory Stout, was arraigned this morning before Judge N. Charles Brusatori in Marin Superior Court.

The judge set 10 a.m. Monday as time for Rogers to enter his plea and to ask the court for bail to be set.

Rogers is being held in Marin County Jail without bail.

He is accused of shooting his wife, Bertie, 35, at the home of her mother, 9 Greenwood avenue, San Rafael.

She was found dead on Aug. 9 with a bullet wound through the back of her head.

Rogers contends the firing was accidental.

Marin Starts To Feel Truck Strike Effects

Marin merchants and contractors are starting to feel the effect of the Teamsters Union strike, a survey showed today.

Although the shortages are spotty, there was evident apprehension that "from now on things are going to be tougher."

Nobody reported any big trouble yet. But significantly, some were opposed to being quoted to that effect, lest trouble begin.

"Bad news is what the strikers want to hear," said one San Rafael businessman. "When somebody says he's getting on all right, these fellows go out to learn why. The result is that the pressure goes on in some new quarter."

General contractors' fortunes vary now, according to the kind of jobs they're on, in view of Robert Schwingler, department manager for William H. McDevitt Co. of San Rafael.

"Right now we have a job in Sausalito for which we're unable to get ceramic tile," he said. "We're having problems about reinforcment steel for a hotel job in San Francisco. Otherwise we're in pretty fair shape.

"It's a matter of what is required for a given type of building. You can see that structural steel makes a hauling problem. No, it's not a matter of the steel strike—we all tried to protect ourselves."

The day-by-day nature of the situation was stressed by Robert Batty, manager of Montgomery Ward and Co. in San Rafael.

"So far we're not hurt to any great degree but you don't know what will happen daily," said Batty. "Our trucks are coming all right from Oakland and San Leandro, although problems have developed in shipping to San Francisco.

"You just have to go along day by day, watching and hoping."

Supermarkets drawing on their larger resources don't have the problems of the smaller independents but even these seem to be making out better than would be expected, so fa.

San Rafael Episcopal Rector Resigns Post

Rev. Henry B. Getz, for seven and one-half years rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in San Rafael, resigned yesterday, effective Sunday.

Rev. Getz resigned to accept rectorship of the Episcopal Parish of St. Barnabas on the Desert at Scottsdale, Ariz., on Oct. 1.

A member of the board of directors of the San Rafael Military Academy and of the Rotary Club of San Rafael, Rev. Getz has served on the board of directors, the executive board and the home service department of the Marin County Chapter of the American Red Cross for six years.

In addition to his duties as rector of St. Paul's, Rev. Getz serves the Diocese of California as a member of the diocesan council, chairman of the department of missions, member of the board of examining chaplains and dean of the Convocation of Marin.

Mrs. Getz has also been active in church and civic affairs. At St. Paul's she was the chief organizer and choir mother of the large junior choir. She has been active in Camp Fire Girls and Parent-Teacher Assn. work.

Witness At Willis Trial Won't Talk

A male witness who had been brought to Marin Superior Court under a bench warrant refused to testify in the Willis abortion trial today.

"I've got myself to live with, my own code of morals," said the witness in the course of discussion after the jury had been excused.

The man, reportedly from Larkspur, had answered a few preliminary questions after striving from the outset to testify.

"I refuse to testify," he said immediately after administration of the oath. Dist. Atty. William O. Weissich asked him to take the stand and briefly explained that a subpoena had been served last night calling for appearance at 10 a.m.

On his failure to appear, a bench warrant had been served. He was brought to court about 11:30, to be called about 11:50 a.m.

"I have nothing to testify to in this case," said the witness, continuing in an almost inaudible voice that he "had known the Willises for many years" and adding something about a "girl."

Weissich persisted in his effort to question and the witness said he had known Dr. and Mrs. Jack E. Willis, the defendants, for six years, that they had visited each others' homes, and that he knew a young woman whose testimony has been taken against the Willises as having had an abortion by Dr. Willis.

"In October or November, 1958, did she tell you she thought she was pregnant by you?" asked Weissich. The witness hesitated and Weissich went on: "He may be incriminating himself and I mean to ask the court that he be granted immunity."

It was 12 o'clock, the time for noon recess, and Judge Thomas F. Keating said: "We had better go into it. The jury will leave."

Weissich first said that the witness was already in contempt for failing to answer the subpoena but the judge replied that "there was a remedy, a bench warrant was issued and he was brought in." So Weissich said, "I will abandon the contempt matter for the time being."

Questioned as to what had happened, the man said:

"I was brought. What you're asking of me is about extraordinarily good friends. I'm completely unrelated to this case but you've got me right in the middle. I might perjure myself."

"You're here to tell the truth," said Judge Keating.

"What you have said is not a ground for refusal to testify but you may have grounds, as suggested by Mr. Weissich."

Leslie Gillen, defense attorney, observed, "He doesn't have to testify if he might either incriminate himself or degrade himself."

"He hasn't advanced either ground as yet," said Judge Keating.

Weissich, on request of the court, then outlined testimony he expected to elicit from the witness. This included the point that he had caused a woman friend to become pregnant, had argued with Dr. Willis that he couldn't let her be aborted by another doctor, and that Dr. Willis had performed an illegal operation on her.

"It will be a direct impeaching of Dr. Willis' testimony," Weissich concluded.

The court then sought to ascertain the grounds of the witness' position and the man said: "It's a personal moral issue, sir."

Judge Keating suggested that this might refer to self-degredation to which the witness responded: "That's what I mean."

Weissich said the suggested testimony would make the witness "an accomplice to the abortion" and that self-incrimination could be claimed, to which the court acquiesced. But the witness said:

"Well, I don't really understand all these legal aspects. With me it's a moral issue."

This precipitated more discussion. Finally the court expressed readiness to "assume" that both grounds were claimed. Weissich then said that on such assumption, he requested a court order under Section 1324 of the penal code, granting immunity which would require that questions be answered.

Gillen said that it was putting words into his mouth" to assume that both grounds were claimed and added: "Nobody can make a man immune from self-degregation."

Again efforts were made to ascertain the witness' precise stand.

"I'm telling you how I feel—I've got myself to live with, my own code of morals," said the witness.

Judge Keating then concluded that the witness's attitude "apparently doesn't encompass the ground of self-incrimination." He adjourned court until 1:15 p.m., 45 minutes before the jury was due to return.

Weissich requested that the witness be held in custody.

Judge Keating asked the witness if he'd show up again at 1:15 p.m., and he replied, "I will come back but I'm not going to testify."

The court ruled he need not be held under arrest.

Freedom Of Information Campaign Bumps Into 'Curtain Of Secrecy'

CHICAGO (UPI)—Sigma Delta Chi (SDX), professional journalistic fraternity, has scored major gains at state government level during its 50th anniversary year in its campaign for freedom of information.

But it has bumped into a "curtain of secrecy," a leader of the drive said, in its effort to obtain greater freedom of information in the federal government.

V. M. Newton Jr., managing editor of the Tampa (Fla.) Tribune and chairman of the Sigma Delta Chi freedom of information committee, said Alaska recently adopted a law providing that governmental bodies hold open meetings.

Alaska is the sixth state to enact SDX-sponsored freedom-of-information legislation so far this year and brings to 19 the number of states in which the fraternity has scored successes since it started its campaign in 1953.

Open meeting laws also were enacted this year in Oklahoma, New Mexico, Maine and Hawaii.

A companion law, stipulating that records of government must be open to citizens' inspection, has been enacted during 1959 in Maine, Hawaii and Georgia.

Legislation proposed by Sigma Delta Chi lost out, however, in the legislatures of Arizona, Colorado, Montana, Nevada, Texas, West Virginia and Wyoming.

The journalism fraternity summarized the progress of its fight for freedom of information at the request of United Press International.

Newton said that newsmen no longer are fighting alone against secrecy in government. Congress and the bar associations have become "staunch allies," he said.

But he said that a forthcoming report by the freedom of information committee "will show that the curtain of secrecy over federal government is tighter than ever in spite of the Moss and Hennings committess and the efforts of interested newsmen."

In the campaign, Newton has written thousands of letters to government officials, members of Congress and others to set forth the Sigma Delta Chi stand.

Representative of these were letters written recently to President Eisenhower and to James Riddleberger, director of the International Cooperation Administration.

The letter to Riddleberger, written earlier this month, protested his refusal to turn over to the House Subcommittee on Government Operations information on the American foreign aid program in Viet Nam and Laos.

It took exception to Riddleberger's action in invoking "the so-called doctrine of executive privilege" and the official's statement that disclosure of the requested information would not be in the public interest.

"The so-called 'doctrine of executive privilege' has neither standing in the law nor a place in free American government," Newton wrote Riddleberger.

"At the most, this doctrine . . . is nothing more than the bureaucrats' fanciful theory of doing as they please in the domain of the American people's business, with no restraint from either the Congress or the people. And to say the least, it is in direct conflict with the historical and original American 'doctrine of the people's privilege,'" Newton said.

Newton's letter to President Eisenhower took "respectful exception" to the President's statement at a July 29 news conference that no other administration in his memory had gone to so great lengths to make information available so long as national security and the national interest is not involved.

"The official reports of the Moss Subcommittee on Government Information in the House of Representatives and the Hennings Subcommittee on Constitutional Rights in the Senate, covering their investigative hearings of the last three years, show clearly that there is more unnecessary secrecy in the federal government today than at any time in our history," Newton told the President.

Board Backs Vista Point Tourist Aid

Directors of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District endorsed in principle today a tourist information center at Vista Point.

The vote was unanimous of all directors present.

This followed approval by 7-0 vote of the building and operating committee of the district at a meeting yesterday.

The facility has been urged by the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce to distribute tourist information about the Redwood Empire to visitors who stop at Vista Point for the impressive view of the bridge and San Francisco Bay. It would be built and operated by the Redwood Empire Assn.

Vandals Are Suspected In Novato House Fire

Yesterday's $3,000 fire at the Novato home of an Air Force captain may have been caused by a vandal or vandals who ransacked the house, then deliberately set it afire with matches, sheriff's deputies reported today.

The victims, Capt. and Mrs. Irvin J. Harris of 777 Plaza Linda, are vacationing in Nebraska. The captain is expected to fly back to Marin Sunday.

Sheriff's Sgt. Edward Levine said the house was locked and had to be forcibly entered by firemen about 11 a.m. yesterday. The mattress in the master bedroom was afire, and valuables lay strewn all over the floor.

Evidence showed two other fires had been set. One was in the bathroom where a box of burnt wooden matches lay in the bathtub. A sleeve of a woman's bathrobe, hanging on the bathroom door, was scorched.

In the kitchen, a potholder was smoldering under the flue over the kitchen stove.

Lewd words and pictures were scrawled on the bedroom mirror with what appears to be lipstick.

College Conference

A conference meeting on College of Marin business procedures will be held by Marin Junior College District trustees Monday at 8 p.m. in Harlan Hall on the Kentfield campus.

STOCKS TODAY

COMBINED AP & UPI

NEW YORK—Stocks ended the week today on a note of quiet irregularity. Trading was cautious during the session as investors appeared reluctant to make new commitments before the weekend.

Volume for the day was estimated at 1,900,000 shares compared with 2,550,000 yesterday.

Gains and losses of fractions to about a point dotted the list of key stocks.

There was little in the news to stimulate prices.

Vic Chemical dropped about four after merger rumors were discounted.

U.S. Steel and Chrysler were down a point each Reynolds metals advanced about two.

Raytheon was ahead about two. Other electronics were narrowly mixed.

Small losses were shown by General Motors, Ford, American Motors, Republic Steel, Jones and Laughlin, Standard Oil (New Jersey) and Du Pont.

Fairfax Zoning Study Still Not Completed

The Fairfax Planning Commission failed for the second time to complete its study of a new zoning ordinance at last night's meeting and adjourned until Sept. 15.

At that time, according to Chairman Waldemar E. Radtke, the ordinance will be reviewed and a public hearing will be held on a proposed zoning change on Sir Francis Drake boulevard property across the street from the Community Church.

The change, requested by Roumiguiere and Watt, San Anselmo developers and builders, would rezone the property from single family dwelling to apartments.

At last night's meeting the planners denied a use permit application from Top Properties to erect a duplex on a 5,000 square-foot lot on Inyo street. The city ordinance calls for a minimum of 6,000 square feet.

Approved was an application by R. E. Nolan to subdivide into three lots a piece of property on Bothin road.

Milk Prices To Rise Cent On Tuesday

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Milk in most California areas will cost one-half to one cent more a quart beginning Tuesday.

The increases were announced yesterday by the Agriculture Department, which noted they reflect the normal rise in milk production costs during fall and winter.

Under the department's pricing program, the prices are scheduled to drop again next spring.

In Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Riverside, Santa Barbara and San Diego counties the price will go up a half cent a quart.

It will cost a penny more in Marin County and in the rest of the state, except in Inyo, Mono, Imperial, Siskiyou, Del Norte and Humboldt counties, where it will cost the same as now.

Sausalito Lateral Repair Work To Start On Monday

Work will begin Monday on repair of a slide condition on the Sausalito lateral from Golden Gate Bridge, just above the Ft. Baker Capehart Housing project.

The Golden Gate Bridge District board today ratified a contract with John C. McCosker, Inc., of Brekeley, at a bid of $27,454. He must complete the work in 75 days.

McCosker was second low bidder. J. E. Douglass of Daly City bid low at $23,631. The board rejected his offer because he had failed to itemize unit prices as required by the specifications.

items right now" but shelves were said to be completely stocked with everything so far, although some items such as crackers were reported to be presenting problems.

"Meat is O.K." said Roy Franchini of the Home Market, also in San Anselmo. "The only thing affected there is some of the smoke-houses, four in the Bay Area.

"Our grocery man reported that he had to go pick up his stuff and that they'd shorted his order about one-fifth, but the grocery shelves are still far from depleted.

"Drop shipments coming in from such points as Sacramento are helping out—a truck comes along and drops off some stuff here, some there."

Arthur W. Smith of Art Smith's Variety Store in San Anselmo admitted that "I feel it" and said the strike "has stopped delivery of quite a bit of merchandise."

"The thing is just beginning," Smith summed up. "From now on we're going to have it tougher."

Some electric lines are closed out but others are still open, said F. L. Auger, vice president and general manager of North Bay Electric Works, Inc., of San Rafael.

"Things are getting tighter every day," said Auger. "We're just worrying along. Some are hiring trailers to bring the goods through but we won't do that.

"One of our big suppliers just dried up and that leaves only one left."

Saying that he had had to send over to San Francisco to pick up some items, a San Anselmo plumbing contractor asked that his name not be used. "We could get in trouble," he declared.

You just can't cross a picket line," he went on. "So far it has been possible to get a little by dodging the pickets, but that's the way it has to go. We're feeling the pinch just a trifle but it could be worse from now on."

INDIA

India protested to Peiping, and the Chinese reply, received as Nehru sat in Parliament, claimed the Indians on Aug. 25 fired first and the Chinese shot back in self-defense. Peiping said it knew nothing about the border crossing the next day.

"I give credence to our own reports," Nehru said as the deputies cheered in approval. "All circumstantial evidence supports our view. I believe it is true."

Several newspapers in recent weeks have reported various crossings by Chinese troops into India along the mountainous border of Kashmir and also in the northeast frontier area, in the Indian state of Assam. There also have been reports of Chinese claims to these Tibet, as well as Nepal and the protectorates of Bhutan and Sikkim, which lie between Kashmir and Assam.

The Times of India reported today that Red forces had pushed back several border patrols along the northeast frontier and said in at least one instance there was believed to have been an exchange of gunfire.

Nehru said the government notes occasional press reports of the Chinese making some kind of claims to Sikkim and Bhutan.

"It is not possible for us to check the authenticity of such reports," he said, "but naturally they are causing concern to the people of Sikkim and Bhutan and elsewhere in the border regions of India."

Deputies thumped their desks in approval as Nehru declared:

"The government of India is responsible for the protection of the borders of Sikkim and Bhutan and of the territorial integrity of those two states, and any aggression against Bhutan and Sikkim will be considered an aggression against India."

QUEEN

Then together with Prince Philip, they took the palace car from the gateway for the half-mile drive to the gloomy old castle built amid these melancholy moors by Queen Victoria.

The President flew up from London in a Royal Air Force jetliner to Dyce Airport near Aberdeen, then drove 50 miles through the Deeside country with Prince Philip, the Queen's husband.

Eisenhower got a taste of real Scots weather on his arrival at Dyce Airport. It was cold and windy, and rain started pelting down as the presidential plane taxied up to the arrival strip.

A crowd of 500 Scots, wrapped in topcoats and mufflers, sent up a big cheer as the President walked down the steps from the plane.

Eisenhower gave Philip—his guest twice in Washington—a firm handshake and patted him warmly on the elbow. The prince smiled broadly.

Eisenhower flies back to London Saturday, then will drive to Chequers, the country home of Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Gate Bridge Records Set

Golden Gate Bridge traffic during July set new records.

The 1,755,484 vehicles crossing the span during the month was 8 per cent more than for July, 1958, the previous record month.

Total revenue for the month, the bridge district board was told today, was $454,016, an increase of $35,525 or 8.5 per cent, over July of last year.

Commute autos also showed a gain. General Manager James Adam was authorized by the board to purchase $1,500 worth of additional commuter books.

Presidio Parade To Honor New Stinson Resident

One of Stinson Beach's newest residents will be honored at a retreat parade ceremony at the Presidio of San Francisco tomorrow.

He is Col. Clebert L. Hail, who became a Stinson Beach resident after his recent return from El Salvador, where he headed a U.S. Army mission. He is retiring on completion of 30 years in the Army.

Colonel Hail was a member of the 1929 class of the U.S. Military Academy. He won the Bronze Star and Purple Heart in World War II campaigns in Europe. He is a native of Somerset, Ky.

Also to be cited at the ceremony is Sp4 Dick R. Vanek of the 561st Engineer Company at Ft. Baker. He will receive a citation for meritorious conduct of duty with a missile battalion in the Far East between October, 1958,and June, 1959.

BRIDGE

the first big cut north of the Sausalito turnoff. This would allow the four lanes across the span to channel back into three lanes before the tunnel.

The arches would be spaced across the bridge at varying intervals depending on the driver's vision. They would probably be constructed of aluminum, "to reduce the weight as much as possible," Jenkins said.

The traffic engineer, who made the proposal in the long-range study of the bridge he is just completing, said the arches "are needed immediately" and "will be useful as long as the bridge is in operation." He said the arches also could be used for installation of emergency call boxes and a proposed closed circuit television system by which the traffic sergeant could watch all parts of the bridge.

The board also authorized the general manager to make application for federal land for all future projects under consideration.

Mother Of Hub Woman Succumbs

Mrs. Myrtle A. Womack, 78, mother of Mrs. Richard Wall of San Anselmo, died yesterday after a heart attack in her home at Millbrae.

Mrs. Wall is employed by the Marin County Health Department. Her husband, a retired printer, was manager of the print shop of the old Marin County Journal which merged with the San Rafael Independent in 1948, becoming the Independent-Journal.

Mrs. Womack is survived by two other daughters, Mrs. Doris Katsaros of Millbrae and Mrs. Beulah Sweaney of Santa Rosa. She is also survived by a brother and sister living in Illinois, four grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral services for Mrs. Womack will be held tomorrow afternoon at the Chapel of the Highlands in Millbrae. Burial will be at Cypress Lawn, Colma.

NOVATO

Jordan said the board has the power to exclude all properties it wishes from the boundaries, but that it may not add to the territory proposed for incorporation.

Alan Roberts of Novato asked the board to state what factors would be used as a criteria for excluding or including any given property.

"At this point, we just don't know," replied Supervisor William D. Fusselman. "That's one thing we hope to arrive at by these hearings."

Robert Busher declared that personnel of Hamilton Air Force Base should not be allowed to vote on the question of incorporation of Novato.

Jordan replied, however, that state law makes it possible for government property to be included in the proposed boundary without the consent of the government, and that all registered voters within the finally determined boundaries will have the right to vote.

Supervisors, on the urging of Supervisor William Gnoss, agreed to go on a field tour of the Novato area to look at areas considered for inclusion and exclusion, sometime before the next public hearing at 2 p.m. Sept. 11.

Efficient Logging Good For Marin, Majority On Radio Panel Believes

A panel of five voted yesterday by a 4-1 majority that logging is good for Marin.

The matter was discussed over radio station KTIM's weekly "Marin Sounding Board" program.

Of the five, only Fred Gunsky, former editor of the Sierra Club Bulletin, stuck by the plea, "Woodman, spare that tree!"

Agreeing—each for reasons of his own—that controlled, efficient logging of Marin's trees was a boon to the county, were Boyd Stewart, on whose property the Sweet Timber Co. is located; William Sweet, sawmill owner; Douglas Hertz, president of the Bolema Club, a hunting and fishing organization, and Woodbridge Metcalf, consultant to Sweet Timber Co. and former professor of forestry at University of California.

Sparking the discussion was Marin's only major logging operation, the Sweet Timber Co., which has been engaged for the past year in harvesting Douglas fir on 3,500 acres in the Olema area on the Stewart, Palomarin and Tevis ranches.

Moderated by Kitty Oppenheimer, the program will be rebroadcast via tape recording Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

All participants in the discussion, pro and con, gave themselves advance billing as conservationists at heart.

Sweet, who admitted that the mill's main interest in the operation was profit, emphasized that only over-ripe fir trees are being taken out of the area and that the redwoods are untouched.

"Douglas firs grow up and die," Stewart pointed out. "We are using the finest logging methods and will leave the land in a condition so the trees will re-establish themselves.

"If they fail to re-establish, we will plant new trees."

The sawmill owner pointed out that his payroll, now more than 100 men, is a considerable shot in the arm to the Marin economy.

Metcalf, forestry expert who said his background in and love for Marin dates back to 1914 when he helped fight a forest fire here, reiterated his employer's pledge that efficient logging practices are being carried out and that precautions against fire and erosion are of prime concern to the company.

Metcalf said he felt as long as 15 years ago when logging in Marin was first discussed, that it is "unfortunate that these trees could not be harvested."

"Douglas firs will not reproduce themselves in the shade of the older trees," he explained. The loggers, he added, are using the "skyline" method of harvesting, which means the felled trees are hauled uphill to prevent erosion from tractor roads entering the area.

Stewart, one of the land owners on whose property the trees are being harvested, said he looked upon the trees the same as any other money crop.

"Our land was not bought for speculative purposes," he declared. "We have found the value of timber on our land has increased and we think it should be harvested.

"But we do have a land owner's interest in seeing to it that the land is protected. The controls being exercised today will see to it that another and better forest will grow in place of this one."

Hertz, a hunter and fisherman concerned with the welfare of campers and outdoorsmen of his Bolema Club, said he was "terribly shocked" when he first learned of the logging operations, but, after a study of methods and many talks with Sweet, was won over to approval of the operation.

"Sweet had the courage and enterprise to buy this timber for what I understand to be more than a million dollars, and I think he is entitled to a profit from it," Hertz said.

"The forest is too dense as it stands now for a recreation area," he said in pointing out the danger of falling limbs from old and broken trees.

Grinsky, whose primary opposition to the removal of timber centered on the proposed state park on the Pt. Reyes Peninsula, said he could not take a lumberman's point of view.

"The forest is beautiful even though it is over-ripe," he said. "A second growth is not what a natural forest is . . . We are losing a scenic part of the park which will not come back for a generation."

"If we want to see a scenic park in the Pt. Reyes area, we had better get busy," he warned conservationists. "If the money became available, it is possible we could buy the timber rights ourselves."

WOMAN SLAYS RATTLESNAKE AT FAIRFAX

Mrs. Walter Lynch of 117 Bothin road, Fairfax, killed a young rattlesnake on the street in front of her house while five neighborhood children played nearby yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Lynch said her attention was called to the snake by the children and she killed it with a shovel. The snake had four rattles.

Approval Sought For Boat Landing

Ridge Fraser of 283 East Strawberry drive, Strawberry, has applied to the Army Corps of Engineers in San Francisco for approval of plans for a pier and boat landing on Salt Works Canal, Richardson Bay.

The engineers' office said Fraser apparently built the landing in ignorance of the law requiring him to seek engineers approval along a public navigation right of way.

Any objections to the application must reach the engineers by Sept. 24 in writing and in triplicate.

Cairo Next Stop For Gluckman

LISBON (UPI) — Peter Gluckman, America's "flying watchmaker," took off today from Lisbon Airport to resume his try for the round-the-world record for light planes. His next stop is Cairo.

So far he has 55 hours of flight between San Francisco and Lisbon, touching down in Mexico; San Juan, Puerto Rico; and Santa Maria in the Azores.

He is piloting a Meyer-200 monoplane of 260 horsepower.

From Cairo he will hop through Karachi, New Delhi, Manila, Tokyo, Honolulu and back to San Francisco. Target date: Sept. 7. Total distance about 23,000 miles.

While aloft, Gluckman says he feeds on sandwiches, chocolate and water, and passes the time typing letters and reading paperbacks.

Postal Chief Pledges War To Finish On Pornography

WASHINGTON (AP) — Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield urged a "war to the finish" today on what he called filth racketeers who prey on the nation's young people.

He said postal inspectors estimate that as many as one million school-age children will receive "pornographic filth in the family mailbox" this year. This would be one out of every 35 children of school age.

In most cases, he told senators starting an investigation, the material is not ordered but is received by the children because their names landed on a mailing list.

Summerfield asked for legislation to plug legal loopholes which he said hamper efforts to crack down on mailers of obscene materials. But effective action also will require the cooperation of an aroused citizenry, he said.

The cabinet officer was the lead-off witness before a joint hearing of the Senate Subcommittees on Juvenile Delinquency and Constitutional Amendments.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY IN THE INDEPENDENT-JOURNAL

A WEEK OF GOOD READING

PROFILE OF THE WEEK—William Q. Wright of Novato is an engineer in a family of engineers. His father and his three sons are also in the game. But his life has included mining engineering, geophysics and agricultural pursuits. But it is not all work for Wright, as he describes in an interview with Independent-Journal staff writer Robert Newcomb. Bill Wright and his sons are avid sportscar fans, all owning Porsches because they get a kick out of driving. (Independent-Journal photo)

ONE OF A SERIES — Each week an Independent-Journal staff writer explores the character, achievements and human side of one of Marin's outstanding personalities — some of whom are all too little known by their neighbors.

Serving All of Marin County

Brown To Demand More Park Funds

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown said today he would ask the Legislature next year to provide more funds for California beaches and parks.

"It's unthinkable that, in this state with 16 million people, we don't have adequate beaches and parks," the governor told his news conference.

The state Park Commission said last week that it would have to cut back its park and beach construction program by 14 million dollars because the revenue from tideland oil drilling was less than expected and other park money had been lent for other purposes.

"There is not going to be a shortage of beaches and parks in California," Brown said. "In the budget session of next year, I am looking for ways and means of taking care of the present five-year program and start a new five year program" of beach and park construction.

"This is a must program. Our facilities are not adequate. I intend to see that the needs of the people of California are fully met," Brown said.

He said one of the methods he is considering to get more money for beaches and parks is to earmark for them a larger share of tideland oil revenues, which last session were earmarked for water projects.

However, Brown said the amount would be relatively small and would not be opening the door for further raids on water money.

YOUNG FELLOW, 73, CAN'T HIT OLD MAN BACK

DETROIT (AP) — Anastasia Yesue, 73, told police he was clobbered with a cane wielded by Frank Archibald, 96, suffering a black eye as a result.

Asked why he didn't hit back, Yesue replied:

"I didn't want to hit an old man."

Yesue and Archibald were ordered to tell it to a municipal court judge Sept. 3.

Mill Valley's School Chief Offered Raise

Trustees of the Mill Valley School District last night offered Supt. G. Robert McConnell a new three-year contract, with salary beginning at $13,000 a year, starting next July 1.

The board acted in a special noh-public meeting at its Miller avenue office. (The California legislative counsel held Wednesday that setting of salaries is not a matter permitted at secret meetings of school boards under California's anti-secrecy law.)

McConnell did not say whether he would accept the new three-year contract, but Mrs. Martin Rosse, trustee president, said he probably will let the board know soon "as a matter of courtesy."

McConnell's present salary is $12,000 annually. His contract runs until next July 1. His new contract proposal would give him $500 annual increases for the duration of the contract.

Mrs. Rosse said school boards usually review superintendent's salaries prior to expiration, but in this case the board is "just looking ahead." The salary of Leo B. Edson, assistant superintendent in charge of business, has already been set at $10,500 a year.

Ferry Boat May Stay At Sausalito Slip

Luther W. (Bill) Conover, proprietor of Sausalito's Trade Fair, announced today that he will apply to the Sausalito City Council next week for permission to keep his ferry boat, the Berkeley, tied up at the foot of El Portal, and operate his business from there.

Conover said that he is sending a letter to the council and expects it to be on the agenda for next Tuesday night's meeting.

When the 61-year-old, steel-hulled former Southern Pacific ferry arrived in Sausalito on Aug. 12 she met an "enthusiastic reception," Conover said, "both from long-time residents who remember the days of ferry boat commuting and newcomers who have been told about it. I have not heard a single expression of disapproval of bringing the boat in, and many people have asked why I don't keep her here instead of moving her to Richardson Bay."

Conover's alternate plan had been to refurbish the Berkeley in Sausalito and then move her to a six-acre tideland site outside the city limits.

He said that if he receives permission from the city to keep the Berkeley tied up at the Sausalito slip and move the Trade Fair aboard, he will comply with all safety and sanitation requirements. In addition he said he will improve the surrounding area. He already has repaired the dock leading to the slip where the Berkeley is tied up. There is a 24-hour watch aboard the boat, he added.

Marinite Wins Fair Art Award

Othello Michetti of San Anselmo was announced today as winner of an award in the California State Fair art show.

Entries in the show were judged in advance of opening of the fair next Wednesday in Sacramento.

Michetti received a $25 non-purchase award for his watercolor, "Volcano, California."

Rites Slated To Open Marin's New Seminary

Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary, Marin County's newest educational institution and the West Coast's largest theological school, is rapidly preparing to open its doors for classes.

Dr. Kyle M. Yates Jr. will deliver the academic address Tuesday at the convocation service marking the opening of the seminary on Strawberry Point. It will be the institution's 16th session; its first in Marin County.

Dr. Yates, associate professor of Old Testament and Biblical archaeology, has been on the seminary faculty since 1953. He is a graduate of Wake Forest (N.C.) College and holds master's and doctor's degrees from Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Ky. His address will be entitled, "Toward an Understanding of the Hebrew Concept of Miracle." Yates is a resident of San Anselmo.

Speaks at seminary opening

Orientation Day tomorrow will bring new students together in their first meeting on the new campus. The newcomers will be expected in the chapel in Broadus Hall at 9 a.m. for the special program, at which the faculty will famaliarize students with the organization and purpose of the seminary and answer questions.

The first social event on the new campus will be the president's reception. On Monday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock, seminary president Dr. Harold K. Graves and Mrs. Graves will receive the faculty, staff and students.

Registration for returning students started yesterday and will continue through tomorrow, New students will register Monday.

Drunk Driver Fined

Adolph Albert Gugel, 35, of 86-A Wreden avenue, Fairfax, must pay a $250 fine and remain on one year probation for his first drunken driving offense. Judge Harold J. Haley sentenced Gugel yesterday for driving while intoxicated on Center boulevard in San Anselmo on July 6.

GUIDE DOGS HAS NO TIES WITH SALESMEN

Salesmen operating in Marin County who claim to represent Guide Dogs for the Blind are prevaricators, Dr. William F. Johns, Guide Dogs executive director, said today.

Dr. Johns said Guide Dogs headquarters at Los Ranchitos has received about 20 telephone calls this week from women reporting calls by door-to-door salesmen who said they represented Guide Dogs. The peddlers are selling place mats, hand woven cloth, neckties, throw rugs, brooms and dust mops. Calls have come from all parts of Marin County, said Dr. Johns.

Guide Dogs employ no salesmen of any kind and does not receive money from house-to-house sale of any article, Dr. John emphasized.

Truck Strike Extended To San Jose

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Teamster Union official says that striking San Francisco truck drivers are extending their picket lines 50 miles south to San Jose today and eventually may go out of the state.

"We're working on the theory that if they're unfair in San Francisco, they're unfair in Oakland, San Jose, Modesto or any other place," said Phil Dindia, head of Teamster Local 85's strike committee.

"We're going the full length to win this strike, even if we have to go clear across the country."

Dindia said Local 85 pickets would appear at San Jose branch office firms of Pacific Intermountain Express, Consolidated Freightways and Watson Brothers.

The strike, entering its fourth week today with no sign of settlement in sight, is aimed at employers in San Francisco and San Mateo counties.

AFTER 11 YEARS

Mother, 2 Sons Freed In Georgia

CAMILLA, Ga. (AP) — Two young Negroes freed today after 11 years in a prison camp, extended thanks to the warden for good treatment and to the Georgia Pardon and Parole Board of "giving us a chance."

Sammy Lee Ingram, who was only 14 when he was sentenced for murder; and his brother, Wallace, 16, at the time, were handed their discharge papers by Warden J. W. Whtley.

JOIN MOTHER

They left by car for Milledgeville and a reunion with their mother, Rosa Lee Ingram, 51, who also breathed the air of freedom today for the first time in 11 years.

Negro friends arranged to bring the three to Atlanta where they have the promise of jobs in drugstores operated by Dr. C. R. Yates, Negro druggist.

Death sentences given the trio were commuted shortly after their conviction in 1947 for the slaying of John Stratford, tenant farmer near Ellaville. Life sentences were lifted Wednesday by the board after many pleas by various organizations.

Warden W. N. McHan said Mrs. Ingram "has always been quiet, a good prisoner."

WORKED ON FARM

McHan said she was employed around the 11,000-acre farm connected with the state hospital for the insane.

It was only yesterday, he reported, that he informed her of the Pardon and Parole Board action paroling her and her sons to an Atlanta Negro druggist, Dr. C. R. Yates.

He quoted her as saying: "I cerainly am happy. I thank everybody for all they have done for me. I'll be proud to be back with my children once more."

there's gold in them thar...
*SILVER HILLS

Well maybe it ain't really gold--in fact to our sorrow we've found that it was just plain rust from our puzzled plumbing.

For days we've had our pipes on "STAND BY TO FILL THE NEW POOL" alert. It seems that the waiting period shook them up a bit. In their desire to please they burst forth with gorgeous, grumbling gurgles—but no water. After about ten minutes this gold goop hit the fan.

Grabbing buckets of the stuff and mumbling clever phrases like, 'Who needs a country club?" we laughed all the way to the bank. The bank, not having a sense of humor, threw us out.

In any event, be it filled with gold, silver, rust or rubbish, we've got our first pool completed. It's available for a merger with the members or a peek by prospects.
Come on up.

Rancho Nicasio To Add 8 Ponies; Sabella's Patio Awaits Naming

A certain radio announcer may be interested to know I was right and Romano Fabbro IS back at the Rancho Nicasio —has been for two months. I wouldn't mention it except that he bawled the heck out of me, claiming Romano hadn't been there for a couple of years.

If there's any doubt he don't have to take my word. Let him run out there and sample the chicken cacciatora or home-made ravioli and find out for himself.

Starting in September, Rancho Nicasio will add eight ponies to its livestock collection, same to benefit youngsters on Saturdays and Sundays who'd like to become future trail riders. Also for hire for parties—have truck, will travel.

Speaking of trail rides, one coming up Sept. 26 and 27 and is being handled by Keith Craig and Sam Thomas of Novato. The Keith-Sam ride will start from Novato on Saturday, wind up for dinner and an overnight stay at the Rancho, including a hearty Sunday breakfast. Details at Rancho Nicasio.

"What's this state Assembly thing I've heard about?" I asked Nick Kobseff. "You going in for politics?"

"Try this new Holland beer and tell me what you think of it," he countered. "It's called Amstel. Baron Van Hillegom who owns the brewery has some original Rembrandts of his ancestors and . . ."

"Okay, I get the point," I broke in. "So maybe it started as a joke. What happens if you're stuck with it? You could be y'know."

"Anyway, the beer's good," I added, when he didn't rise to the bait. "Here's to your future, as — state assemblyman???"

I dunno—d'you?

LEGAL NOTICE published about Sabella's incorporation seems to have confused some into thinking it has been sold.

Not so—this highway spot is still very much in the hands of the Sabella family, with Angelo at the head. A matter of good bookkeeping, that's all.

By the way, Sabella's glass enclosed outdoor patio has been canopied against downdraft winds. Look for it to be named by next week.

HAVING PROMISED myself to sample Corky's assorted seafood platter at Rubini's before other people started telling me about it, a recent visit proved a rewarding experience.

Unlike some combination platters, each delectible ingredient is cooked differently. The jumbo prawns are fried, the South African lobster is broiled, clams are deviled, scallops are sauted and the crab is Newburged en casserole.

Takes time to prepare but the outcome is worth it. Gordon Jones had the idea in his head for some time, and Corky Jones (no relation) was the one who talked him into moving it on to the table.

Order it a la carte. It's a delish dish and has enough of everything to satisfy—unless, of course, you're one of those who can't put down their napkins until they've had dessert.

NEXT TUESDAY marks the reopening of the Travelers Inn dining room. Kitchen has been completely done over and is as neat as a pressed duck.

Jim Louie, formerly of Joes' Village Patio, occupies the dining premises and will serve the Chinese and American food which made him so popular in Corte Madera. Tuesday's opening follows the lunch hour, thereafter both lunch and dinner will be offered daily.

Al Barghini and Vic Scherini will officiate at the adjoining bar as heretofore. Banquet room is available for groups and parties.

ACROSS THE TABLE, La Petite Auberge has discontinued Saturday lunches—opens that day at 5:30 p.m. . . . Teamsters' strike has held up materials for remodeling completion of the Captain's Room in Corte Madera. Fred Kern thinks it will be about Sept. 12, although the new bar may be open by Tuesday . . . If your favorite restaurateur is off duty next week he's probably at the Western National Restaurant Show in the San Francisco Civic Auditorium. A highlight will be the Culinary Art Show Wednesday afternoon.

WORD OF THE RISING success of Maurice Guridi Jr. at Pierre's in Sausalito came within range of the long reach of the Navy. A host of his exbuddies gathered on him last week for a big feed from the Coast Guard cutter Ewing.

"Oof," finally said one, stuffed to the gunwales with cargo and leaning back in his chair. "Many more meals like that and I'll either sink the ship or have to sign on a larger one."

"Many more meals like that," sighed Jr., surveying the stacks of unwashed dishes, "and I'll have to get a larger sink."

BRIDGES NARROW, SO HOUSE FORDS RIVER

Bridges were too narrow and the only way this house could be moved into Littlefork, Minn., was to bring it through the Littlefork River. So housemover Ole Thompson eased the truck and house down the steep bank, then used a bulldozer on the opposite bank to tow the rig across the shallow stream. It worked perfectly. (AP Wirephoto)

Name Selected For Sabella's Outdoor Patio

When Angelo Sabella decided to construct a novel outdoor pation addition to his popular restaurant on Richardson Bay, it seemed only good business to hold a contest to name it with the winner to receive a champagne dinner for two.

"The judges have selected a name which we think is attractive, simple and descriptive," Sabella says. "Two of our very good friends have suggested 'Sabella's Garden Court' which will be its official name."

The two winners were Mrs. Richard H. Perkins of Tamalpais Valley and Mrs. Jules Lohse of San Francisco.

Some of the entries showed a considerable range of imagination.

"Angelo's Folly," was one suggestion which followed construction problems of the combination fish pool, fountain and blazing volcano which require three complete overhaulings to locate a leak.

Another title suggested was "Burn or Freeze," sent in before a protective canopy was installed.

Another was Vesuvius, although the volcano of Sabella's homeland of Sicily is Mt. Etna.

There were "cuties" also. Like "Outrigger Patio," where you have to be rigorous to enjoy it. Or Kon Tiki, meaning "you kon tik it or not."

Monday night, the new Sabella's Garden Court will have its official opening and whether it's a hot day or a windy one, the new patio addition should be just right for the guests, Sabella says.

Beatniks Draw Fire For Bathtub, Hearse

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"I went to the Gas House and saw a bathtub in the middle of the room—with a man just sitting in it. Just sitting in it!"

A. S. Roberts, a conventional sort of guy, was telling the police commission yesterday why he doesn't like the beatniks.

CONVENTION-HATERS

Beatniks—in case you don't dig the term—are a curious collection of queerly dressed convention-haters in full flight from the world and in fresh pursuit of art. They express themselves by flailing bongo drums and by painting and writing—and sometimes, apparently, just by sitting in bathtubs.

The police commission is holding a hearing to determine whether the "beats" should get an entertainment license for an establishment called the Gas House, one of their hangouts in the beach community of Venice. Many citizens are appalled by the idea.

Take Mabel Hardy, who lives in an apartment building across from the Gas House. She complained of bongo noises and said some beatnik has been parking a 1933 hearse in front of her apartment.

GRIM REMINDER

"A lot of us are old and don't feel very good," she said. "That hearse didn't make us feel any better."

Another witness was Michael S. Kelly, who said he posed as a beatnik and visited the Gas House as an agent for the Civic Union, a civic improvement group.

"There was drinking going on," he said. "There were some juveniles drinking wine."

The beatniks assert only coffee and sweet cider are served at their haven, but Kelly insisted there were stronger potions.

"How do you know it was wine?" he was asked.

"I tasted it," he said.

Kelly also said he saw nude models working at the Gas House.

"How long did you stay on this occasion?" he was asked.

"About one and one-half months," he replied.

Kelly later explained he thought he was asked how long he had been spying for the outside world.

Eric (Big Daddy) Nord, a six-foot, seven-inch 300-pounder who has been running the Gas House, said during a recess: "The world just can't stand the sound of bongo drums pounding out a message of peace. But people are afraid of bongos. The sound of bongos would be better than the beep-beep-beep of inter-stellar hardware."

The hearing continued today.

Drastic Overhaul Of Service Setup Urged By Engle

WASHINGTON (AP)—Elimination of a separate Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps in a drastic overhaul of the nation's defenses was proposed today by Sen. Clair Engle (D-Calif).

"The missile race is one we must win if we are to stop Communist domination of the the world," Engle said in a Senate speech. He is a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Engle proposed instead "a retaliatory striking force; a limited war force; a continental defense; and a logistic command."

Officers Refused Right To Write

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. John E. Moss (D-Calif.) disclosed today that the Defense Department has banned signed newspaper or magazine articles by high officers except in military publications.

Moss, as chairman of the House Government Information Subcommittee, demanded an explanation.

RADAR PLACES SPEED BLAME ON PROTESTERS

CRANSTON, R. I. (AP)—Police put their radar equipment to work after receiving complaints of automobiles speeding through residential areas.

They announced the results yesterday: Most of the speeding was done by motorists living in the neighborhood from which the complaints came.

Kittens See 'Combat'

CAMP PENDELTON, Calif. (AP)—Two black kittens went through amphibious maneuvers with First Division Marines.

They were loaded, unnoticed, into the hold of the USS Pickway, a troop thansport, with camouflage nets.

Acting Cpl. R. G. Balzarett and Sgt. J. R. Hoy found them and took care of them through the amphibious landing. They then found homes for them with married Marines.

Capsule Look At Marin's Film Offerings

By LESLIE DARD

Capsule guidance on what Marin's film houses are showing this weekend:

RAFAEL THEATER

"The Big Circus" (color, CinemaScope) is just that—a front and backstage drama of circus life. It opens Sunday.

Victor Mature, Vincent Price, Rhonda Fleming, Kathryn Grant, Red Buttons, Peter Lorre, David Nelson and Gilbert Roland head a star-studded cast that leaves no room for dull moments.

The story line serves merely as a vehicle for presenting various stunts and acts, but most of the calamities that can happen to a circus are hauled out: a lion on the loose, a fire, a train wreck and treachery on the trapeze.

Mature plays the circus owner, Red Buttons is a banker sent along to protect his employer's interests. Miss Grant is an aerialist with whom Red falls in love (he also fills in for ailing clown Peter Lorre).

The authentic acts are perhaps the best part of this big show, but my personal vote goes to Gilbert Roland for his performance as the aerialist who crosses Niagara Falls on a wire. It's a neat bit of suspense and quite believable.

Take the kiddies to this one.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

"Geisha Boy" (VistaVision and color) is a series of gags perpetrated by comedian Jerry Lewis and it's co-featured with "The Buccaneer" (starring Yul Brynner) at the peninsula playbox.

Jerry portrays a small-time magician who signs up with a USO troupe bound for Korea to entertain the soldiers.

His one asset is a mad white rabbit, which he smuggles aboard the Japan-bound ship. Quite a rabbit, too: it dines on cherries from a woman's hat, dodges under Marie MacDonald's bedclothes (with Jerry in pursuit, naturally) and finally turns out to be named Harriet, rather than Harry.

Some of the humor in this elaborate bit of nonsense is contrived. But the pace is typically Lewis: gags, contortions, mugging and all.

LARK THEATER

"The Truth About Women" offers Laurence Harvey as an aging philanderer whose life has been speckled with beautiful women and equally beautiful memories: an artist (Julie Harris), a lovely Swedish girl (Mai Zetterling), a suffragette (Diane Cilento) and a Parisienne (Eva Gabor), among others.

The old gent unburdens himself about these amours to his too-impetuous son-in-law. Each wound was deep, he relates, but he was a quick healer. No matter what the ending of each affair, the memory was mellow and amiably mirthful.

NOVATO THEATER and MARIN MOTOR MOVIES

"The Nun's Story" (Technicolor), opening Sunday, is based on the widely read book about a girl who discovered that she was "not cast in the mold of a nun."

In Audrey Hepburn, who plays Sister Luke, you see an actress of rare sensitivity to the subtle changes which finally "pushed" her out of her Order.

Miss Hepburn portrays a young girl who enters a Belgian convent, hoping to be sent to the Congo as a nurse.

In Africa, she works with a masterful and profane doctor (Peter Finch) and refuses the thought that she may be falling in love with him.

Back at home, the Nazis kill her father. This creates a compulsion within her to reject her vows, since she no longer can feel forgiveness.

The final act of departure from the Order (never named in the film) is electric in its shattering silence, a lonely "death" of one life, the uncertain beginning of a new one.

FAIRFAX THEATER

"The Vikings," Technirama and color, offers its heroes as history's fiercest fighters and greatest lovers.

The stars are Ernest Borgnine (Ragnar), a hairy Viking king; Kirk Douglas (Einar), his legitimate son; Tony Curtis (Eric), who appears to be a slave, but is actually Ragnar's illegitimate son; Janet Leigh (Morgana), a captured princess who loves Eric.

Ostensibly the film deals with the Vikings and their warfare, but on another level, it's Einar vs. Eric—two brothers who do not know they have the same father.

Filmed at a cost of more than four million dollars, "The Vikings" includes 4,000 bearded extras, a flotilla of 33 Viking ships, lots of battling and derringdo.

SEQUOIA THEATER

"Hercules" (color), starring muscleman Steve Reeves, is an adventure tale based on the legends of Greek mythology—a half man-half god who saves a royal princess, slays a Cretan bull and a lion with his bare hands, licks a dragon, encounters Amazons and joins Jason and his Argonauts to bring back the Golden Fleece. It opens Sunday.

Reeves is quite a fellow in the strength department and performs some amazing feats. Attired in a fringe beard and an abbreviated toga, he looks like a composite of all the Mr. Universe Winners.

Sylva Koscina plays the princess rescued by Hercules and there are a flock of Italian beauties, sparsely draped, as the Amazon gals.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

What with one thing and another, Hollywood's back with "The Return of the Fly," which picks up where the other left off. (If opens Sunday).

Brett Halsey plays a young scientist who repeats his father's dangerous experiments, placing himself in a "disintegration cabinet." As in his father's case, a fly gets in and their anatomies become mixed up, crazy like.

Vincent Price plays Halsey's uncle and with the help of a police inspector (John Sutton) straightens out this biological mess.

The co-feature is "The Alligator People," which tells of a scientist who develops an extract for helping people regrow missing limbs. There are drawbacks which result in terrible transformations.

Filmgoers will be properly horrified.

'NUN'S TORY' AT NOVATO — Audrey Hepburn tends to medical needs of African natives in "The Nun's Story," opening Sunday at the Novato Theater.

'BIG TOP' STARS—Gilbert Roland, Kathy Grant and David Nelson are three of the many stars in the Technicolor production "The Big Top," coming Sunday to the Rafael Theater in San Rafael.

Hello, Son

MADISONVILLE, Ky. (AP) — James R. Peyton, 41, rounded a sharp curve in his car and collided head-on with a truck. When Peyton got out to check the damage, he found the truck driver was his 18-year-old son, Gary.

NEW LEGION LEADERS

Kidnaped Boy Found Slain In Nevada

RENO (UPI) — A 17-year-old honor student, believed kidnaped during a service station holdup in California, was found shot to death last night on a remote cliff near here.

The victim was Larry Water —who had planned to start college next month on a scholarship.

Police issued an all-points bulletin for a young murder suspect, who was believed to be driving a car bearing New Mexico license plates.

George Howard, manager of the service station where Water was employed in Livermore, said a young man drove into the station Wednesday and entered the office.

A few moments later, Water told Howard he "had to leave" with the customer to help him buy some tires. The manager said Water appeared nervous.

When the attendant hadn't returned in a half hour, Howard went into the office and found $41 missing from the cash register. He notified authorities that Water might have been kidnaped.

Police said Water's body was found on a high cliff overlooking the Truckee River in the rugged painted rock area near the small town of Wadsworth. Two .25 caliber bullets had been fired into the boy's head.

LITTLE ROCK ATTACK

Tear Gas Breaks Up School Board Session

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Choking fumes from tear gas bombs thrown by two white women broke up a routine meeting of the Little Rock School Board last night.

Two bombs were tossed into the foyer of the downtown school headquarters while the board was meeting upstairs. Fumes and smoke spread quickly through the building and the board, a half dozen newsmen and about 20 spectators scrambled out through a rear exit. No one was hurt.

The board has been under verbal assault from segregationists for fostering a token plan of integration for Little Rock high schools.

Leonard Willis, a janitor, said he saw the women push open the front door, toss the bombs inside then flee in a waiting car.

Board members wiped away tears and walked two blocks to the offices of the chamber of commerce and resumed their meeting behind locked doors.

$88 Million Rate Increase In Fourth Class Mail Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Interstate Commerce Commission examiner recommended today that the Post Office be authorized to increase rates on fourth class mail — parcel post and catalogues—by 88 million dollars annually.

Increases proposed range from 35 per cent down to 1 per cent and average 17.1 per cent. The percentage of increase diminishes within each zone, other than local, as weight increases. There are only a few reductions for the greater weights and longer distances.

Exceptions to the examiner's recommendation must be filed before Sept. 28.

The ICC, with its 11 members sitting, will hear oral argument on Oct. 9.

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield filed a request Nov. 28, 1958, asking ICC consent to the increased rates.

Examiner Burton Fuller said the Post Office Department submitted data for fiscal 1958 showing a total deficit of $108,800,000 for catalogues and parcel post. This was $12,700,000 more than shown for fiscal 1957.

Rocket Plane's First Flight Meets Delay

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE (UPI)—The first powered flight of America's first manned space craft, the rocket ship X15, was postponed indefinitely today due to technical difficulties.

The black, needle-nosed ship will be carried aloft under the wing of a B52 jet bomber and released at around 40,000 feet. Then, if all goes well, test pilot Scott Crossfield will put power to the two 8,000-pound thrust rocket engines for the first time in free flight.

The sleek, stub-winged craft is expected to zoom to 50,000 feet at 1,000 miles an hour after release from its "mother" ship high over the Mojave Desert.

The flight was described as "strictly a test of the engines." Ultimately, the research ship is designed to streak 100 miles above earth at speeds of around 4,000 miles an hour to learn the secrets of manned space flight.

Press observers were warned ahead of time that if they saw a parachute blossom from the X15 during its flight it didn't mean Crossfield had bailed out.

Spokesmen explained the bottom tail fin of the craft had to be jettisoned with a parachute before the X15 could land.

Complainant Fails To Show Up In Court

A 13-year-old San Rafael boy, who says he was molested by a 28-year-old woman, failed to show up for a preliminary hearing in Marin Municipal Court yesterday.

Mrs. Clara L. Ervin, an attractive brunette who has denied the accusation, was ready to proceed with her attorney, Deputy Public Defender Jerome Durham.

Deputy Dist. Atty, Harold F. Wolters said the boy and his family are moving to Sacramento and could not be served with a subpoena in time for yesterday's hearing. But as soon as they settle in Sacramento, they promised they would contact the sheriff, said Wolters.

Attorney Durham failed in his attempt to have the case tossed out of court on grounds the prosecution witnesses had failed to show up. Judge Harold J. Haley postponed the hearing until 10:30 a.m. Monday.

However, Durham did succeed in having Mrs. Ervin's bail reduced from $2,500 to $1,500. She was still being held in county jail this morning.

Mrs. Ervin, wife of an airman serving overseas, was arrested last week on a complaint by the boy's sister-in-law.

Gets State Contract

A $169,644 contract has been awarded to Watkin and Sibbald, San Anselmo, by the state Public Works Department in Sacramento to landscape three Bayshore freeway interchanges near Menlo Park and Redwood City.

Chamber Names Woman Director

Mrs. William J. Mann, mother of four children and co-owner of the Yarn Nook of San Anselmo, is the first woman to be appointed a director of the San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce. She lives at 145 Butterfield road, San Anselmo, and her husband is a nurseryman.

Also recently appointed to the board, and like Mrs. Mann a worker who has aided the board during the past several months, is Samuel H. Miller of 31 Mountain View avenue, San Anselmo, manager of the Safeway Store in San Anselmo.

East Bay Transit Bond Vote Slated

OAKLAND (AP)—A 16½-million-dollar transit improvement bond issue will be voted on at a special East Bay election Oct. 20.

Directors of the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District set the election after approving an engineering report.

The report recommended an over-all 24-million-dollar project to expand and improve public transportation in the East Bay cities.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Let's Eliminate Red Herrings In Civic Center Criticism

Each Tuesday the Marin County Board of Supervisors receives a few postcards protesting construction of the proposed government center at Santa Venetia. Sometimes there are only two or three of these cards. Other times there are two dozen or more.

The postcards often have the same complaint and most of them quote the same figures, indicating a concerted effort on someone's part to organize in opposition to the civic center.

This in itself is not objectionable. This is the right of any person or persons in a democracy. And we have no complaint against it. What concerns us a little is that the postcards reflect only the slightest recognition of the problem and practically none of the steps which have and are being taken.

The problem is this: You live in a growing community, one which is demanding more and more of its governmental agencies. The county's agencies are growing to meet these demands. The old county courthouse was outgrown many years ago. County offices are all over the place, mostly in rented quarters.

At the present time 27 county offices operate in 13 different locations, many of them inconveniently (and expensively) located in relation to each other. And we're still growing.

Take the case of the third municipal court. We spent half a million dollars only two years ago to build an addition to the courthouse, mainly for courts. Next month we get a third municipal court and we haven't a place to put it. We must rent courtroom space.

The addition was designed originally to be built with only two stories completed and a garage in the basement. Before the job was done, all three floors were completed and the basement was converted into more office space for the new electronic data processing equipment and it's still not big enough.

The supervisors have been moving ahead slowly but surely toward an overall solution for many years now. Actually, because they decided on a pay-as-you-go program instead of a bond issue, you already have put aside a good part of the money needed for the civic center's first two stages of construction. In another seven years it will all be paid for without the necessity of raising the basic tax rate, if the plan is followed.

What's it going to cost? You've seen a lot of conflicting figures on that. No one can say exactly, not until the bids are in, but the first two stages are estimated right now, with plans practically completed for construction, at $4,124,000. This includes architect's fees, land preparation, landscaping, furniture, and everything except the land which we already own and have paid for.

The remaining three stages, which most optimistic estimates don't schedule for completion before 1970, would be another $5,388,700.

But here's an important point you should consider. By using pay-as-you-go financing, the saving in interest on the first two stages alone will be about 1½ million dollars. Even more for the other stages.

We're not financial experts, but it appears to us that the supervisors have been following a carefully considered and studied road toward a solution of the county office problem. The plans are still open and subject to criticism and suggestion. We hope they get them because we want our civic center to be the best possible.

But let's eliminate any red herrings!

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

I Can't Afford Cadillac Fun

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

On Sept. 15th I'll go to the polls and cast my vote on the $350,000 bond issue for recreation in Terra Linda.

I am not against recreation for children, but I'm definitely against such an expensive proposition as this program. Most of this recreation is for adults, diving swimming pool, olympic size swimming pool, tennis courts, large building for dances and card parties, etc. The CSD says it will only cost $350,000, but they don't mention that it will really be about $700,000 with interest.

In the past several weeks, the CSD has given out so many "cost per family per year" figures on this bond issue that most people are thoroughly confused as to just what it really will cost. It appears to me that this is what they wanted to succeed in doing.

On the basis of a questionnaire, the CSD sent to each of the approximately 900 homes in Terra Linda, they proceeded ahead with this most ambitious program. The questionnaire has about nine questions, but I think the main one, in looking for a true sample of the people's feelings, was question No. 8—"Would you support this program at the voting poll?" The interesting part is they received 294 questionnaires back, by their count, and of these 294 families responding only 155 stated a definite "yes."

This is about 55 per cent of the 278 people that answered this particular question. It takes a ⅔ majority at the polls to pass this bond issue, It doesn't make sense to me if not enough people are for it why spend our tax money for an election?

At a CSD meeting, the residents of Terra Linda were told they were going to get the best recreation available. As it turns out, the program is not the best, but certainly the most expensive which may be beyond the average Terra Linda homeowner.

When the CSD board was asked if they would reduce their sights and lower the cost by eliminating some of the expensive items and put in reasonable playground facilities for kids they stated flatly, "No, we're buying a Cadillac."

All I can say is, I'm glad they think they can afford a Cadillac, I can't.

Welcome Back, Wat, I Wish It Had Been This Reporter Fishing

The gentleman whose picture and name usually follows mine a day later in this space survived vacation and Yosemite and has returned to his desk. For that, I'm thankful. I like to see Wat Takeshita back at his desk, but I want him back for a more selfish reason: I no longer do his job.

It was fun, but it was hectic—and busy. Practically the first day on the job (while Wat undoubtedly was having a lazy session fishing) there was a murder. I was trying to eat my breakfast when the city editor called, and in his breathless manner, informed me to shove off and get to work.

So I shoved down the toast and flew out the door, hardly giving my startled wife a chance to ask what was going on.

AND SO WENT the toil of two weeks of turmoil.

Come back little Wat, I kept saying in my sleep. Take me away from this mad pace. I hardly paused for breath during those two weeks.

Wat usually comes back to the office after having covered his beat with a handful of notes and the drive of a bull rhino. He makes the typewriter sing. Peerless copy flows from his touch. He spins and weaves and produces, and soon the city editor's "In Box" is brimming with the best prose of the day, the top stories, the banners. Wat makes headlines.

I CAME BACK to the office each day those two weeks more than just a little bit frazzled. I felt like a chicken caught in a lawnmower. My tail feathers drooped.

They laughed when I sat down to the typewriter. They are still laughing.

But somehow I coughed and wheezed my way through. Wat had left me voluminous instructions and piles and piles of clippings containing the background of his favorite subjects—trial dates for hit-run drivers, narcotics cases and histories of the doings of the sheriff's office. (I forgot to mention—his beat is the San Rafael city hall and the courthouse — every room of it.)

SOMEHOW I survived terrifying looks from county officials as though some strange beast had been set loose in their files.

"When's Wat coming back?" they asked daily.

Somehow I managed to smile at every policeman, every deputy tax collector, every deputy county clerk, and look solemn in front of the judges.

I ENDURED the sophisticated talk of the "metropolitan" press as a farmer driving a horse and wagon endures the honking of city slicker's horn.

And, all in all, I came away with the impression that Wat toils among some pretty nice people. They make his work lively and worthwhile. But it's also work.

There's just one thing I regret.

I didn't go fishing.

Percy Committee Building Time Bomb To Rock Republicans Awake

At first it looked impossible—the idea that the 43-member Republican Committee on Program and Progress could ever agree on anything but a collection of refurbished and resounding cliches.

Most Washington correspondents yawned when this committee sat down at the piano. They figured that either no tune would be forthcoming or that each hand would be playing different music.

Don't spread this about, but my information is that under the persuasive, do-things chairmanship of Charles H. Percy of Kenilworth, Ill., president of Bell and Howell Company, the report is going to break exciting new ground for the Republican party.

FAR FROM BEING "reactionary, negative, and against," it will be progressive, positive, and for a wide range of urgent actions.

There's no doubt about it, the report isn't going to please everybody.

Instead Chairman Percy, who is himself something like a quiet atomic reactor, persuaded his colleagues to accept these premises:

THAT THE COMMITTEE was not drawing up a national platform designed to unite dissident elements of the party.

That its purpose was to look forward, not backward, that it should define the major problems the nation must solve in the next 15 years and offer practical solutions.

That if these tasks require the committee, in Lincoln's words, "to think and act anew," well and good, let it be done but let's not avoid the hard problems and the hard answers by pulling the covers up over our heads.

That while this undertaking involves political risks, the only way the Republican party can become the majority party is by taking risks; the way things now stand, the only direction it can go is up.

THE COMMITTEE, therefore, began asking itself these questions: "What kind of country do Americans really want? What kind of people do Americans want to be? What kind of life do they want for themselves?"

While the Percy committee report is still in its final drafting stage—it will be ready about Oct. 1 — there is no doubt that most Republicans and many others will find it a "novel and upsetting" document. That's good. I would expect that in mood and direction:

IT WILL AVOID political labels like "liberal," "conservative, "radical," "Right," and "Left," and center on what needs to be done and how best to do it.

It will deal with the Soviet Communist challenge but will stress that doing what needs to be done anyway in defense, education, science, and economic expansion is the best way to meet the Communist challenge.

It will contend that we can't afford not to assume we can afford whatever is needed to spend for defense.

It will favor freer trade and will support expanded trade in consumer goods with the Soviets.

It will indulge in no wishful thinking about tax reduction.

Many Republicans are going to say 'Hurrah." Some will say "ouch." But one thing is sure: this is no report to file without reading. Already it sounds like a time-bomb.

WIN BY LOSING

Throughout history those who have worked for the benefit of mankind have usually paid the high price of "losing" themselves in order to "win" for everyone.

If you steadfastly work to renew and revitalize every level of government, countless obstacles and discouragements will stalk your path.

Graft, corruption, disloyalty and the many other evils that continually plague self-government the world over will often seem impossible to cure.

On top of that the indifference, misunderstanding and downright cynicism of those whose happiness and well-being depends on the survival of freedom can have a chilling effect on you.

But if you persevere, despite all discouragements, God will bless and reward you for eternity and all men will be indebted to you.

Recall often that Jesus Christ loved all men, even the worst, so much that He underwent hardship, persecution and death to help them. You, too, can win if you are willing to lose as He did.

"Whosoever shall seek to save his life shall lose it; and whosoever shall lose it shall preserve it." (Luke 17:33)

Thanks to You, O divine Redeemer, for inviting me to bear the cross as You did.

NEW KOREA IN LAOS?

Just Red Pressure Or Threat To Peace?

By RONALD P. KRISS

TOKYO (UPI) — Is a new Korea brewing in the pivotal Southeast Asian kingdom of Laos?

All the elements are there. Pro-communist rebels, anywhere from 600 to 4,000 of them, are waging guerrilla warfare in the wild mountains of the northern provinces.

Red China and North Viet Nam are making thinly masked threats of intervention and hinting that they will dispatch "volunteers." The Laotian government charges that North Viet Nam already is channeling arms and men across the border into Laos.

NEVERTHELESS, most observers doubt that an all-out war will erupt in the landlocked kingdom, but they're nervous.

They see the current flareup as part of a Red pressure campaign to persuade the pro-western government of Prime Minister Phoui Sananikone to go a little easier on the Communists in Laos.

Laos is in the heart of Southeast Asia, an accident of geography that has caused nothing but trouble for the little kingdom for the last 12 centuries.

It is hemmed in by two fiercely Communist nations—China and North Viet Nam; two fiercely anti-communist nations—Thailand and South Viet Nam; and a pair of neutrals—Burma and Cambodia.

THE NATION, shaped something like a barbell and only 89,000 square miles in area, has been invaded at one time or another by all these neighbors.

Late in the 19th Century, however, the French took over and made it part of their Indochinese empire.

Laos won independence in 1949 as a constitutional monarchy within the French union, but its troubles were far from over.

In 1953 the communists decided to lop off the northern tier of Laos for themselves. They found this wild geography ideally suited to the type of guerilla warfare for which they were trained.

WITH COMMUNISTS running two of the northern provinces and Communist nations occupying 620 miles of common border, Laos had little choice in the direction of its international politics.

As long as the government in Vientiane, the capital, maintained a policy of docile neutrality, somewhat tinged by red, it was reasonably safe. The moment it abandoned that neutrality and began leaning toward the West the fuse was lit.

A year ago, Sananikone came to power and tilted his nation toward the West. The explosion has followed. Reports coming from the northern provinces are sketchy, but they indicate that the rebels are waging classic guerilla warfare, seizing an outpost here and a radio station there, burning them and fleeing into the mountains as soon as loyalist troops approach.

Here Are Some Books Guaranteed To Help You Overcome Insomnia

NEW YORK (AP)—The late W. C. Fields had the only perfect cure for insomnia.

"Get more sleep," he advised.

Nothing promotes good sound sleep better than a good sound—but dull—book.

Dr. W. W. Bauer, director of health education for the American Medical Assn., pointed this out in a recent article on insomnia.

With literally hundreds of old and new favorite literary snorestarters to choose from, here is one man's list of a dozen tested books guaranteed to improve your mind—by putting it to sleep.

1. "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire," by Edward Gibbon. This all-time champion has put more people to sleep than anything except the discovery of ether.

2. "War and Peace," by Tolstoi. Fine for a doze anywhere after the first page.

3. "Paradise Lost," by John Milton. Beware of reading this one backward. It's too exciting that way.

4. Any novel by Henry James or George Eliot.

5. Dr. Spock's book on child care. Recommended for bachelors.

6. "REMEMBRANCE OF Things Past," by Marcel Proust. As lulling as if you were paddling a canoe with a wet piece of spaghetti in a lily pond in mid-July.

7. "Finnegan's Wake," by James Joyce. Doesn't make sense but will make you insensible.

8. "The Fable," by William Faulkner.

9. "Collected Speeches," by William McKinley.

10. "ALICE IN Wonderland," by Lewis Carroll. No normal child ever waded through it except under compulsion.

11. "The Life of Peter Rabbit." For people who read with their lips. By the time you say "hippety-hippety-hop" 812 times, your lips are so tired you nod off.

12. Any how-to-do-it book on how to stop smoking, stop drinking or start living. Best of field: "Wake up and Live!"

BENNETT CERF

At the Lambs Club, they tell about a killer who was sentenced to be hanged 12 hours before election day. On the way to the gallows he was informed, "You have 10 minutes to make a farewell speech."

"I got nuttin' to say," snarled the condemned man. Whereupon a spectator stepped forward and beamed, "In that case I hope you'll let me speak instead. I'm running for sheriff tomorrow."

"Talk your fool head off," conceded the condemned man, "but hang me first!"

Dr. Adiel Moncrief, pastor of the First Baptist Church in St. Joseph, Mo., cites three slight errors made by very little boys trying very hard to recite the Lord's Prayer:

1. Harold be Thy Name.

2. Give us this day our jelly bread.

3. Lead us not into Penn Station.

Basilio, Fullmer Go For Title Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Gene Fullmer, a country boy from Utah, and Carmen Basilio, an onion farmer from New York, clash tonight for the N.B.A. version of the world middleweight crown in the San Francisco Cow Palace.

Fight time is 7 p.m. PDT and the two lads will be picking up some of the biggest checks of their varied careers for the scheduled 15-round televised bout (blacked out in the Bay Area).

A crowd of about 15,000 is anticipated, with a gate of $200,000. Another $100,000 will come from radio and TV rights. Of the total, Basilio gets 35 per cent, Fullmer 25 per cent.

STYLES SIMILAR

The two bruising body-punchers, both former holders of the now-vacant crown, battle pretty much alike—but think differently.

Yesterday, for instance, Fullmer whiled away the time reading books on philosophy and religion. Basilio loafed and played poker.

"I expect to win it," says Basilio, the crag-faced veteran; "it's the most important fight of my career. My future depends on it."

Basilio's co-managers, Joe Netro and John DeJohn, will be at ringside in an unofficial capacity. They have not applied for manager's licenses because they know they would be denied by the California state athletic commission.

NO USE

"We would have been turned down," says Netro. "There was no use in applying. We told an inquiry in New York that we paid Gabe Genovese money for 'services rendered.' So we get blackballed for it."

Genovese was sentenced to two years last month for being an under-cover manager of Ludwig Lightburn in 1956.

Basilio will be managed for this fight by Angelo Dundee, his chief second.

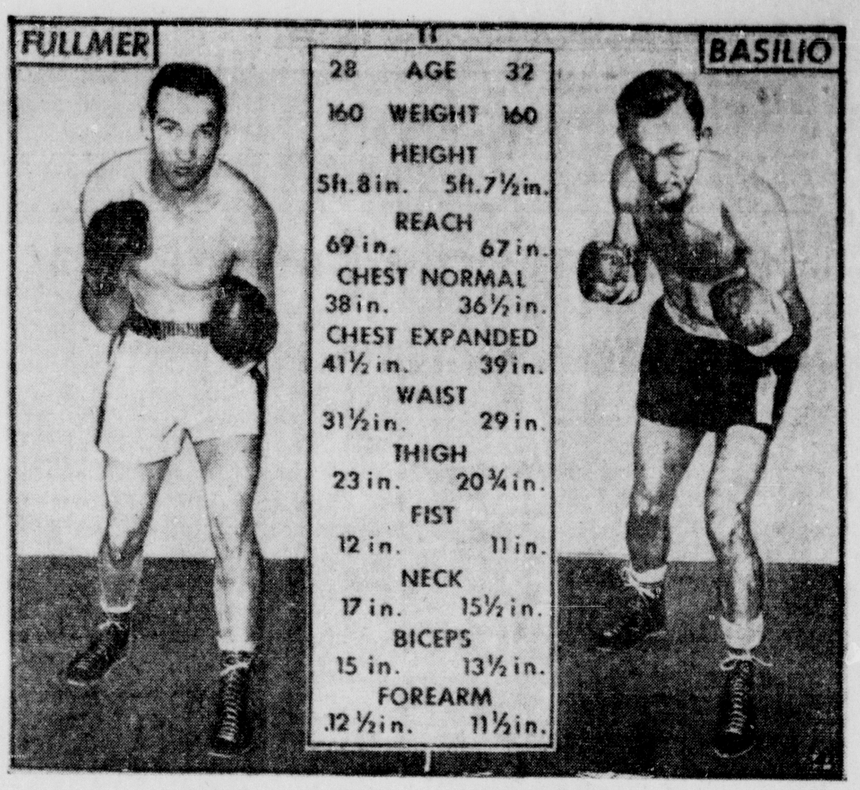
Fullmer, with 151 rounds of boxing, plus dozens more with an axe handle on the heavy bag, believes he is at the peak of his career.

GENE YOUNGER

At 28 years, he is four years younger than Basilio. He will weigh seven or eight pounds more and will have a two-inch reach advantage.

While Basilio has been installed as a 2-1 favorite in the Nevada betting marts, Marv Jenson, manager of Fullmer, is not worried.

"Fullmer is good and knows it," says Jenson. "He thinks he can lick both Archie Moore and Ingemar Johansson. Some day he may shoot for Archie's title."



TALE OF THE TAPE—Here are the statistics on Gene Fullmer and Carmen Basilio, who meet tonight in San Francisco for the world's middleweight title. (AP Wirephoto)

Long Beach 9 Wins Pony League Title

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP) — Long Beach, Calif. is the Pony League World Series winner despite a ruling which may have deprived the star pitcher of a no-hit game.

Jack Wells pitched a no-hitter through four innings against Green County, Pa. last night before having to retire. The Californians went on to win the series finale 8-0.

A Pony League ruling requides that no pitcher can work more than 16 innings during any series. Wells had reached his limit of 16 by the fifth.

The only hit Greene County got was a double by Pete Ellsworth in the fifth. Long Beach got 10.

Three Greene County errors led to Long Beach scores. Mike Calderella homered for the Californians with none on.

The new champions of the Pony League world won their way into the World Series by winning a western regional tourney in Utah two weeks ago, in which the Northern California representative was the North Marin All-Star team.

Canadian Boat Wins Trophy

DETROIT (AP)—Canada's Bob Hayward "gambled all the way" with his Miss Supertest III in wresting the Harmsworth Trophy from the United States last night.

"I was out to win, come what may," said the young Ontario poultry farmer after setting a Harmsworth record of 104.098 miles an hour in beating the U.S. defender, Maverick.

The favored U.S. boat, piloted by Bill Stead, quit with engine trouble in the 12th lap of the 45-mile race, but few experts doubted the outcome from the first lap.

Hayward thundered around the initial lap in the record speed of 107.495 m.p.h.

The two hydroplanes entered last night's race tied at one apiece. Maverick had been favored to retain the cup the United States had held for 39 years.

Weightlifter Places

At the National A.A.U. Dead Lift Championships at Berkeley last Saturday, Terry Johnson took the third place in the 123-pound class by dead lifting 330 pounds.

ROD-GUN CLUB NEEDS HELP TO FINISH PIER

Members of the Marin Rod and Gun Club were asked today to lend their services tomorrow and Sunday to complete work on the club pier.

Leo Ciucci, in charge of the pier rebuilding project, asked all members to give as much time as they can over the weekend, and to bring their own hammers.

Carpentry work—especially nailing down new planks on the pier—is the main job remaining to be done, Ciucci said.

Cooper Takes Tourney Lead

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — Gray-haired Pete Cooper, a 20-year veteran who has had his ups and downs on the professional golf trail, was the first-round leader today as the $35,000 Miller Open golf tournament went into its second 18 holes.

Cooper, 44, Lakeland, Fla., who returned to pro golf in 1958 from a year-and-a-half layoff when a try at being a golf course owner failed, shot a six-under-par 64 yesterday at the rain-swept Tripoli Country Club to lead Doug Sanders and Kent Venturi by one stroke.

Snidow Top Lineman As West Team Wins

Two Marinites figured heavily last night in a 19-0 upset win of the West Bay All-Star high school football team over the favored East Bay eleven.

Defensive end Ron Snidow of San Rafael High was voted the game's outstanding lineman in a press box poll after the game.

Quarterback Jack Sparrow of Novato High, piloting the West on all but two offensive plays during the game, led his team to victory with his smooth ball-handling and clutch passing.

After a scoreless first quarter, Sparrow engineered an 80-yard scoring march in the second period. The drive was made in 11 plays.

The third quarter was scoreless, but Sparrow again started a scoring march just as the period ended.

He fired a 19-yard pass to keep the drive moving, and the West scored on a two-yard plunge by Ron Tucchini of San Francisco's St. Ignatius High, who was voted the game's outstanding back. Voted the overall outstanding player was Mike Doherty, also of St. Ignatius.

Snidow played the whole game on defense, repeatedly smearing the East's attempts to get an offense rolling. In the third quarter, the East made its biggest scoring threat after a recovery of a West fumble on the 13-yard line.

Snidow promptly threw the first East play for a two-yard loss, then dropped back to knock down a pass on the second play. The drive stalled without a score.

U. S. Starts Defense Of Davis Cup Today

In the second match, big Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, rated a toss-up against 21-year-old Rod Laver, another Aussie southpaw who took MacKay in five sets in the Wimbledon semi-finals this year.

Both team captains—Perry Jones of Los Angeles and Harry Hopman of Australia—were confident of victory but both had problems.

"We're in shape," said Jones, "and I know Olmedo will rise to the big occasion as he always has."

But Jones will be in deep trouble if he should happen to look up during the Olmedo-Fraser match and see Olmedo aparently counting the customers (estimated 9,000) banked around the horseshoe stadium. That's usually the first sign Olmedo's concentration is wavering.

And unless Alex keeps his mind on his business the hard-serving Fraser can take him, as he did in the U. S. championships on the same center court last September.

CONFIDENT

Hopman was cheered by his team's final workouts in hot, humid weather yesterday, though Fraser—who is scheduled for the Saturday doubles as well as the two singles assignments—was kept under wraps to preserve his strength. Hopman was pleased particularly with Laver.

"Laver has got over the tiredness that worried me during the last couple of weeks," Hopman said. "And I saw enough of Fraser to know he is ready to go."

Li'l Leaguers Lose Again In Japan Tour

TOKYO (UPI)—The visiting little league all-stars from Buena Park, Calif., suffered their second straight defeat in Japan today.

The older players of the Meiji middle school won 17-0 in a seven-inning game, doing even better than the Tikkyo middle school team which swamped the Californians 16-1 yesterday.

The Japanese boys scored six runs in the third and fourth innings and five in the sixth.

Meiji right hander Maeda allowed only four hits.

First baseman Tanabe hit two homers, one of them a grand slam clout in the fourth inning.

The California boys once again showed they were physically much smaller and lacked power against the older Japanese players.

Ex-Pitcher Dies

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Claude Jonnard, 61, pitching member of the famous Jonnard twin battery of the 20s, died yesterday after an operation. Although Claude and his twin, Clarence, both were in the major leagues at the same time, Claude pitched primarily for the New York Giants and Clarence was with the Philadelphia Phils.

Reeling Giants Play 'Crucial' With L.A.

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

San Francisco's weary Giants, their sluggers sluggish and their National League lead shaved to two games by three losses within 24 hours, open a three-game showdown series at Los Angeles tonight against the rested second-place Dodgers.

Manager Bill Rigney, angry at being forced into a make-up afternoon doubleheader that brought a double defeat at Philadelphia yesterday, picked his ace, Sam Jones (16-12), to face Giant-killer Don Drysdale (15-9) in the series opener.

The Dodgers, 3-5 against San Francisco at the Coliseum but holding a 9-7 season edge, picked up a full game while idle for the second straight day as the last place Phils swept the Giants 7-2 and 2-1.

BRAVES LOSE

Third-place Milwaukee, 3½ games back going into a three-game series at Chicago today, gained only a half-game on San Francisco, losing 5-4 at St. Louis.

Cincinnati tied Chicago for fifth, beating the Cubs 5-0 in the only other NL game yesterday.

In the American League, Chicago's White Sox beat Boston 5-1 in the only game scheduled.

With his Giants losing four of their last five and their lead chopped in half in four days, Rigney didn't do much tongue biting while criticizing NL President Warren Giles in the re-scheduling of Sunday's rained-out doubleheader at Philadelphia.

"You'd think we were a last place club," said Rig, "the consideration we were given. We weren't even consulted.

"We looked dead."

The Giants, beaten 5-4 in 10 innings at Pittsburgh Wednesday night checked into Philadelphia at 2:30 a.m. yesterday and were in uniform 8½ hours later.

The Phils, who had lost six straight, beat lefty Mike McCormick ((11-11)' for the first time this season in the opener. After Ed Bouchee and Daryl Spencer swapped solo home runs, the Phils put it away with five runs in the sixth, starting with homers by Joe Koppe and Gene Freese.

BEANBALL

McCormick then beaned Harry Anderson and after two walks loaded the bases with two out, winning pitcher Jim Owens (10-11) ripped a two-run single.

In the second game, Willie Mays smacked his 22nd homer in the first inning, but the Giants then were blanked on five hits by Don Cardwell (8-7) and Dick Farrell.

Al Worthington (2-3) lost it, giving up both runs in the first on a walk, Koppe's single, Bouchee's sacrifice fly and a two-out single by Wally Post.

Ken Boyer drove in four runs, three with his 24th homer, and Joe Cunningham scored three and had four hits as the Cards knocked off the Braves after trailing 4-0.

Cunningham's triple and Boyer's sacrifice fly beat reliever Don McMahon (4-2) in the eighth. Lindy McDaniel (14-11) won it in relief. Bobby Avila and Joe Adcock homered for the Braves.

Grid Loop Backers Prepared To Lose Money At First

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two backers of the new American Football League said the organization is prepared to lose $300,000 a year for five years, if necessary.

Barron Hilton, who has the Los Angeles franchise, and Lamar Hunt, who owns the Dallas club, discussed the league and its plans yesterday at a press conference.

Hilton, 31, is the son of hotelman Conrad Hilton.

A league meeting will be held Sept. 12-13 in Beverly Hills to announce the makeup of the organization. In addition to Los Angeles and Dallas, there will be New York, Houston, Minneapolis-St. Paul and Denver. Two more teams will come from this list: Seattle, Buffalo, Miami, New Orleans, Kansas City and St. Louis.

U.S. Squad Is Favorite As Pan-Am Competition Starts

CHICAGO (UPI)—Pomp and ceremony over, the Pan American Games settled down today to their objective—athletic competition.

In it, the United States was heavily favored. Today, five championships were to be decided and the U. S. was expected to win four of them.

Up for gold medals were the hammer throw, high jump and 10,000 meter run in men's track and field, the women's javelin throw, and the bantamweight weight lifting championship.

EXPECT LOSS

Of those, only in the 10,000 meter did the U. S. figure to lose.

Oswaldo Suarez of Argentina was a top-heavy favorite over the three U. S. entries—Robert Soth of Long Beach, Calif., Alex Breckenridge of Buffalo, N. Y., and Russell Bennett of Hollywood, Calif. The U. S.'s best bet in this event, Max Truex of Warsaw, Ind., withdrew to compete in the 5,000-meter run only.

The U. S. looked for a sweep in the hammer throw with world record holder Harold Connolly, now living in Los Angeles, Albert Hall of Southington, Conn., and Robert H. Backus of Marshfield, Mass., as its entrants.

DUMAS FAVORED

In the high jump, world record holder Charlie Dumas of Los Angeles, Harold Williams, also of Los Angeles and Vance Robinson of Norfolk, Va., figured to be better than anyone the other 23 competing nations from North and South America had in the field.

Marjorie Larney of Woodhaven, N. Y., appeared the best bet in the women's javelin with Amelia Wood of River Edge, N. J., and Margaret Scholler of Brooklyn her chief threats.

Charles Vinci, Jr., of Cleveland, the defending Pan American champion who also won the 1956 Olympic title, looked like a standout for the gold medal in the bantamweight weight lifting. Each nation is permitted only one entrant in each weight lifting division.

In all, competition in 12 sports was to start today.

USC, UCLA, Cal Seen As Tops On Coast

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Far West Five—football's newest big college conference—contains three contenders and two potential trouble makers.

Southern California, California, UCLA and Washington joined after the demise of the Pacific Coast conference and Stanford later came into the Athletic Assn. of Western Universities, legal name of the group.

Coach Don Clark, of course, would argue negatively, but his USC Trojans rate a slight edge over California and UCLA, thanks to a powerhouse line.

Washington fields practically an all-junior starting lineup. Bob Hivner, outranked in PCC total offense statistics last year only by Kapp, is back at quarterback.

USC's all-lettermen line smacks of speed and beef with twins Mike and Marlin McKeever, 215 each, tackle Dan Ficca, 235, and George Van Vliet, 195-pound end, providing the muscle.

Willie Wood, hampered by a shoulder injury last year in the Trojan's 4-5-1 season, will be back at quarterback.

Elliott has depth, if nothing else going for him, four lettermen centers returning along with four fullbacks to name two positions.

Wayne Crow, a standout sophomore last season, moves from halfback to quarterback in the Bears multiple-T offense.

The UCLA line is of moderate size, but improved in speed, depth and strength. Key veterans up front are center Harry Baldwin, guards Rod Cochran and Jack Metcalf, tackles Tony Longo and Jim Wallace and ends Marv Luster and Trusse Norris.

Coach Jack Curtice at Stanford has a real rebuilding job in his second season. He lost his entire line from tackle to tackle.

Washington has additional heft up and down the line, along with Don Millich, a halfback who sat out last season. But the Huskies need more over-all offensive punch.

The Huskies have a reputation of being as hard a hitting outfit as there is on the coast. Coach Jim Owens assures this won't change.

California League Race Tightens

The Stockton Ports moved to within half a game of the California League lead yesterday beating Fresno 9-5 while the first place Modesto Reds were being edged by Reno 9-8.

Visalia's rookie pitcher Greg Jancich handed a no-hit 9-0 shutout to the Bakersfield Bears.

Jancich, now 11-2, struck out seven in pitching to only 29 batters. He walked two, hit one batter and a third reached first on an error. Double plays helped wipe out the runners.

Bakersfield pitcher Mike Urrizola, who hurled the only other no-hitter of the season, was relieved in the seventh by John Hogg. They gave up 10 hits, including Dave Bristol's three-run homer and two singles.

Stockton's win swept the series against Fresno. The Ports took the lead in the first with four runs on three hits, a dropped fly and a sacrifice fly. Stockton's Pete Ward starred at the plate with a homer, two doubles and a single.

Modesto grabbed an 8-6 lead with a seven-run rally in the sixth but was held scoreless from then on by Reno reliever Bob Hurvitz.

Two Local Golfers In Qualifying Play

Two golfers from the Meadow Club at Fairfax are entered in play starting next Tuesday at Lake Merced Golf and Country Club in San Francisco, in which a field of 65 seeks seven qualifying spots in the national amateur tournament.

The Marinites are Thomas W. Jakobsen and Paul Spengler Jr.

Salt Lake Ups Coast Loop Lead

Salt Lake City Bees boosted their Pacific Coast League lead to two full games last night.

The Bees drubbed the San Diego Padres 9-2 on Dick Hall's five-hitter while the second-place Vancouver Mounties lost a 7-6, 10-inning decision to the Spokane Indians.

Seattle's Rainiers ended a six-game victory famine by whitewashing the Portland Beavers 2-0 and the Phoenix Giants tamed the Sacramento Solons 3-1.

The Bees staked Hall to a 4-0 lead after three innings and he had a breeze the rest of San Diego's runs. Hall struck out seven and walked only one batter.

The Indians sent their game into an extra inning by scoring three runs in the last of the ninth, with Tommy Davis' two-run double the big blow. They got the winner on a walk, a sacrifice and Tony Roig's single.

Mill Valley Golf Qualifying Starts

Qualifying rounds for Mill Valley city golf championship play will start tomorrow, with about 200 players expected to qualify.

Qualifying rounds continue through Sept. 7. Entrants may sign up at the pro shop at the Mill Valley course. Entry fee is a dollar and a half.

Diving for sponges began off Tarpon Springs, Fla., in 1905.

Better Play Baseball

He has only nine boys out for the football team and must get two more by Sept. 4 when Windthorst opens the season.

There were 14 boys in school and all would have come out for the team but five of the boys left to enter the priesthood at Fort Smith, Ark.

We read so much about missiles, atomic power and the development of jet planes that it's easy to overlook some of the other things science is doing. For example, scientists are speeding up the sugar beet industry by developing a beet that is more agreeable to being pulled up by machines. When they get through with that, how about designing square peas that'll stay on a knife, or ears of corn with handles or knobs on both ends? The possibilities for improvement in the agricultural field are as obvious as a palm tree in Alaska. How about a new celery that doesn't sound as though you're stepping on a wicker basket when you eat it? And while we don't want to tax the experts, couldn't something be done about the radish?

An Alabama window washer was fined $25 for smashing all the windows in his own home. Guess he just couldn't stand the pane any longer. There's a time for joking and a time to be serious. SOLONS DEFY IKE ON HOUSING ISSUE

Measure Passed Containing Provisions Which Prompted Veto Of Earlier Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—A defiant Congress, turning a deaf ear to Republican veto warnings, today handed President Eisenhower a "last chance" billion-dollar housing bill.

Party lines fell apart yesterday as the House, by a top-heavy 283-105 vote, completed congressional action on a $1,050,000,000 bill that contained the same features that prompted a housing veto last month.

RECORD AT STAKE

At stake was the President's perfect record of never having a veto overriden. This time the House virtually dared him to challenge its action.

The overwhelming vote far exceeded the two-thirds necessary to override. The Senate vote, on Aug. 19, likewise was by a over-riding majority of 72-14.

With adjournment fever mounting, and House leaders looking forward to quitting by next weekend, the President was confronted with a take-it-or-leave-it proposition.

'HIS LAST CHANCE'

"If President Eisenhower wants a housing bill, this is his last chance," proclaimed Rep. Albert Rains (D-Ala.), sponsor of the bill and Democratic housing spokesman.

When the President vetoed the first $1,375,000,000 housing bill as excessive, he hit at new public housing authority, loans to extend the government into college classroom construction, and other features.

And in a message last Tuesday, Eisenhower told Congress to limit itself to extending the authority of the Federal Housing Administration to insure home mortgages. This insurance authority, which does not involve additional funds, is already about five billion dollars in excess of congressional limitations.

But the House yesterday, with machine-gun monotony, knocked down successive Republican-backed efforts to revise the bill and kill features already denounced as objectionable by the President.

On final passage, 54 Republicans and 229 Democrats voted for the bill. Only 76 Republicans and 29 Democrats voted against it.

Republicans deserted their party leadership in droves. The coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats, so effective in past floor maneuverings, was never in evidence.

House leaders said they didn't expect the President to risk a veto being overriden—even though Republicans privately predicted Eisenhower would call a special session if necessary to deal with housing legislation more to his liking.

"Anybody who would veto this legislation would be very foolish," declared Rains.

Principal features retained in the bill over Eisenhower's objections were 37,000 new units of public housing, an entirely new program of federal loans for college classrooms, a one-year "crash" program of 650 million dollars for city slum elimination, and a one-year cutoff date on FHA mortgage insurance authority.

Three Marine Generals Quit Over Ike Pick

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Marine Corps generals, disappointed by the appointment of a junior officer to the Marines' top spot, have announced their resignations.

Their action yesterday came two weeks after President Eisenhower named Maj. Gen. David M. Shoup to be commandant of the Marine Corps Jan. 1. Shoup will be jumped to full general.

The three who resigned were Lt. Gens. Vernon E. Megee, commander in the Pacific; Edwin A. Pollock, fleet force commander for the Atlantic, and Merrill B. Twining, commandant of Marine Corps schools at Quantico, Va.

Megee, at his headquarters in Honolulu, said "I'm naturally disappointed because I didn't get the top job. So are some other senior officers in the corps."

He gave that as the reason for the three resignations. Pollock and Twining were not available for comment.

"However," Megee added, "Dave Shoup is a fine officer and will make a great commandant."

Slain Girl Termed Symbol Of Failure Of Urban Society To Help Its Youth

NEW YORK (AP) — The 15-year-old Negro girl lay in her white casket in historic Trinity Church, whose stately spire rises between the skyscrapers of Wall Street.

A hushed throng heard the minister say: "Let there be no more sudden death on the streets of the Lower East Side. Let there be peace on the streets."

Rev. Dr. C. Kilmer Myers spoke softly last night to 500 mourners who came from the humid tenements to the city's oldest church.

He pointed to the coffin holding the body of Theresa Gee, slain by a rifle bullet through the head in a teen-age gang fight last Sunday.

"Because she died in a burst of violence on a street of this city, she has become more than Theresa Gee, which was all she ever wanted," he said.

"She has become a symbol of the utter failure of our urban society to make it possible for young people to grow to adulthood without the nagging presence of tragic experiences.

"She is a symbol of our failure to provide wholesome and reliable goals. She is the victim of the strange rift between youth and adults in our day.

"We are the guilty ones, the police, the social workers, the clergy and the citizenry, all of us caught up, as was Theresa, in the tragic and demonic forces of the history of our age."

Dr. Myers, head of an East Side chapel of Trinity Protestant-Episcopal parish, aided in arranging a truce two years ago between teen-age gangs of the area—once predominantly Jewish and Italian and now inhabited by many Negroes and Puerto Ricans.

Theresa was not the only victim of Sunday's gang war. Julio Rosario, 14, died on Tuesday of stab wounds. Six other youths were stabbed or shot, none fatally.

In a swift reaction to the violence, a grand jury yesterday returned two first-degree murder indictments. One was against John Curz, 18-year-old Puerto Rican, for the shooting of Theresa. The other against Miguel (Gypsy) Castro, 17, in Rosario's slaying.

Police said Cruz, leader of the Forsyth gang, admitted shooting Theresa but said it was accidental.

Police said the Forsyth gang was a predominantly Puerto Rican group while the rival gang, the Sportsmen, was composed chiefly of Negro youths.

Russia Developing 'Artificial Comets'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviets claim they are close to developing new and more powerful "artificial comets" that could be seen if they reach the planet Mars, at least 50 million miles away.

The idea, a Soviet reports translated here says, would be to provide a space-probing rocket with a kind of taillight consisting of a cloud of chemical gas having high reflective powers for sunlight.

Such a device, the Soviets claim, could automatically and visually signal the arrival of the rocket in the vicinity of Mars even if radio communication at such a great distance failed.

The cloud of gas, automatically belched from the rocket, would also allow new tests of the density and temperature of the gas that fills interplanetary space, Soviet scientists say.

Mexican Quake Toll Totals 16

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The confirmed death toll stood at 16 today in Mexico's worst earthquake of the year, but many areas in the quake area in southern Mexico still had not been heard from.

All the dead so far were reported from Veracruz state, in an area of the Isthmus of Tehuantepec bordering and just south of the Gulf of Mexico.

Officials said there were at least 60 injured in the state.

Another light shock was felt yesterday at the port of Coatzacoalcos, hard hit by Wednesday's severe quake. A few damaged houses collapsed.

Government rescue teams flew to many stricken areas in which deep cracks made many roads impassable. Many communications lines still were out.

Tiny Hamlet Due Nuclear Power Plant

PEACH BOTTOM, Pa. (AP)—This tiny farming hamlet in southcentral Pennsylvania suddenly has been plunged into the hectic race for nuclear development.

Peach Bottom, population 1,362, yesterday was announced as the site for the world's first high temperature, gas-cooled nuclear power plant.

The Atomic Energy Commission said in Washington that it contracted with the Philadelphia Electric Co. and the General Dynamics Corp. for development of the 24½-million-dollar plant.

The commission said that operation of the plant at higher and more efficient temperatures than now used holds promise for accelerating development of economic nuclear power.

On Sept. 10 Mrs. Wall will visit Blythedale Rebekah Lodge 305 at the IOOF Temple in Mill Valley.

Mrs. Wall also announced Mrs. John McFarland, president of the Rebekah Assembly of California would hold a district meeting on Sept. 29 in Sebastopol with Sebastopol Rebekah Lodge 44 the hostess organization. The meeting will follow a 6:30 p.m. dinner at the Congregational Church in Sebastopol. Mrs. Wall is taking reservations for it.

After the meeting of Golden Star, at which Mrs. Mary Bruni, noble grand presided, refreshments were served in the banquet hall. Mrs. Arthur Blake, chairman of the committee, was assisted by Mesdames June McReynolds, James Williams and Louis Woelfl.

John Stirling announced Ladies Night would be held by Mt. Horeb Encampment 106 tonight at the IOOF Temple, San Rafael.

Next meeting of Golden Star will be Thursday night, Sept. 3. Mrs. Frank Mirgon is chairman.

WELCOMED at the membership tea was the group above (left to right) Mesdames Morris Bode, Richard Walker, Lawerence Post and Harry Schriebman. The work of Hadassah was outlined and its great humanitarian projects described by Mrs. Norman Rogers of Palo Alto, chairman of Hadassah's leadership and training program and of the Speakers' Guild for the Central Pacific Coast Region. (Independent-Journal photos)

Hadassah's Projects In Israel Described

New and prospective members of Marin Chapter of Hadassah learned about the great humanitarian program of the national organization at Tuesday's membership tea at the Louis Ets-Hokin home in Ross.

Principal speaker was Mrs. Norman Rogers of Palo Alto, leadership and training chairman and head of the Speakers' Guild for the Central Pacific Coast Region. She told of the beginning of Hadassah 47 years ago as a study group. It began its medical organization by sending two doctors and a team of nurses to Israel. Almost completed now is the Hadassah Hebrew University Medical Center near Jerusalem.

Mrs. Rogers, who went to Israel a year ago, said the center will be the "most modern" in the world, and it will house all of Hadassah's medical services. Also under construction is the model town where Medical Center personnel will live. The medical center is scheduled for completion in the summer of 1960.

Mrs. Rogers pointed out that Hadassah has pioneered in many fields in Israel. One of the greatest contributions to human welfare is through Youth Aliyah. Since 1935 it has resettled and rehabilitated more than 85,000 children from 72' lands. At the present time there are about 14,000 wards of Youth Aliyah in 248 installations. Mrs. Rogers told of the academic education of the children and how many of the older ones are taught many skills and trades so they may become self supporting.

Tuesday's program was in charge of Mrs. Joseph Land, membership chairman. Mrs. Bruce Wolper, president of Marin Chapter, welcomed the guests and thanked Mr. and Mrs. Ets-Hokin for their hospitality.

Mrs. Land introduced the new members. The program was concluded with the presentation to Florence Donnelly, society and woman's page editor of the Independent-Journal, of an honorary membership in Hadassah and of a memorial "brick" in the Haddash-Hebrew University Medical Center.

Season Correctly

Seasoning guide: It's safe to use one-quarter teaspoon of salt to one cup of boiling water when you are cooking vegetables. Cover the vegetables but lift the top of the saucepan or skillet several times during the cooking of green vegetables because this helps them retain their attractive color.

Fringed Hems Trademark Of Balenciaga

PARIS (AP) — Fringed hems, loose overblouses and rhinestone tennis ball jewels are trademarks of the new Balenciaga collection.

Fashion writers were finally permitted to see it this morning, a month after other major Paris fashion openings.

The Spanish designer, whose influence on styles is powerful, is said to have put off his opening because he feared spies among the press.

One new Balenciaga brainstorm made the audience laugh and cheer—a mannequin, wearing a black crepe sheath with a shutter back on drawstrings, lowered it like a venetian blind to bare her back.

Balenciaga keeps his hemline short, an inch or two below the knee. Only three or four models show half the kneecap. His suits are slender rectangles, some with short jackets blousing down in the back, and others with longer straight jackets to midhip. There are also battle jackets, banded around the hip and yoked at the back.

The most original hats of the season are worn by Balenciaga mannequins. One that looks just like a black satin baseball is worn squarely over one ear: whatever holds it on, it isn't gravity.

Cooperating with the American Bar Assn. towards improvement of our traffic courts, clubmembers and leaders are encouraged to "Go To Traffic Court As a Visitor, Not a Violator."

Focus Show Will Honor Friends Of Vallombrosa

"Very San Francisco" will be the fabulous Elizabeth Vincent collection of custom originals for the opera and theater, dinner parties and city days which will be previewed on Tuesday at Rickey's Fashion Focus luncheon honoring The Marin Friends of Vallombrosa.

Vallombrosa is the San Francisco archdiocesan retreat house for women located in Menlo Park surrounded by spacious and lovely groups and acquired from the Hopkins family 15 years ago. With additions it now accommodates 50 women. Yet still more rooms are needed and every county in the archdiocese has been asked to participate in the building program and the furtherance of the retreat movement. The newly formed Marin Friends of Vallombrosa are enthusiastically working for this new building fund program.

"Brilliant" and "dramatic" are the two words to best describe the Elizabeth Vincent originals that will parade on Tuesday, giving every woman who enjoys dressing for the San Francisco scene a unique opportunity to view fashion's ultimate.

Modeling the superb custom originals will be Mesdames William Byron Wallace, William Donohoe, Alfred Oyster Jr., Paul McArdle, Charles Trost, Francis Walsh and John de Maria with hair styles to compliment the opera and theater fashions by a Marin salon and distinctive custom millinery by San Francisco designer Clare Brown.

Among those who have already made reservations for the exclusive preview are Mesdames Ralph Palmer, Leon Smith, S. N. Jacobs, Thomas Mellon, Robert Quinlan, John Campion and Joseph Crawford.

Vallombrosa committee members for Tuesday include Mesdames A. Barlow Ferguson, Edward Roddy, John Cahill and Ervin Vickers.

The public is cordially invited to the popular Fashion Focus series and reservations for the 12:30 o'clock luncheon may be made by calling Rickey's.

MODELING one of Elizabeth Vincent's "Very San Francisco" gowns to be shown at Rickey's Fashion Focus Luncheon on Tuesday is Mrs. William Donohoe. The lilac satin gown has panels of white tucked satin from the bodice to the hemline.

HONOR GROUP for Tuesday's show will be the Marin Friends of Vallomborsa. Mrs. Paul McArdle models an Elizabeth Vincent gown of black and gold brocade fashioned with V neckline in the front and V'd back. (Les Walsh photos.)

CARY GRANT SAYS

Bleaching Indicates Woman's Reaching For Inner Security

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bleaching indicates a woman's reaching for inner security, says Cary Grant, the movie star.

The suave Mr. Grant sounded off at length concerning some of modern woman's habits and the personality they reflect. But he insisted in an interview over lunch that he was not "sounding off against, but sounding off for WOMANKIND."

"In changing her hair color, a woman is trying to hide herself," said the British-born Grant. "She must be discontent with herself, or she would not be trying to alter. Right? I doubt if it occurs to her that she is flaunting her insecurity.

"Or look at the woman who wears too much perfume . . . smokes with a cigarette holder. These are more of the signs. The more she resorts to artifice, the further she pushes herself along the road to complexes."

"Have you ever noticed this about women . . . How few of them can sit still?" Grant asked. "Look around this dining room. That woman over there, fingering a necklace. Or that one there, twisting her gloves. Sitting still takes some doing . . . a lot of poise.

"Insecurity is a spreading thing. From parents to children. And the male species is in equal trouble. He's coerced on all sides. Pressured by his wife or neighbor to buy the latest car. He argues that his old 1957 model still runs okay. But someone reminds him it doesn't have fins.

"I suppose pressures are inevitable in our modern economy . . . like salmon swimming upstream.

"All most of us can do is regard them with a sense of humor."

To bring the actor up to date, he is starring in a new Hitchock movie called "North by Northwest"; He is separated from his third wife, actress Betsy Drake; he denies there is a romance with Kim Novak; and he says he has no intention of retiring from a movie career which began in 1932.

Grant and the blonde Miss Novak made headlines last spring when they attended the Cannes Film Festival. But Grant said any romance was "A wild piece of idiocy. We think we dance very well together, That is the extent of our physical activity. Unfortunately.

"We were a sensation, and I haven't seen her since."

Be sure of your audience . . . then go ahead!

"SCHOOL DAYS" never end for thinking people — we learn something new every day, by study, by experience, by trial and error. And successful individuals and companies who sell merchandise or service realize early that their advertising AUDIENCE is a vital factor in their success . . . there must be "somebody out there" who sees their message, reads it, and comes to them to buy.

This is part of the A. B. C. of advertising. When you place your ads in the Independent-Journal, another ABC enables you to know exactly who and where your audience is, how many it comprises, and to some extent what you can expect of it. This ABC is the Audit Bureau of Circulations, which counts and classifies your audience, and guarantees its number and quality by regular audits. No free copies. No throwaways. No unwanted papers in postoffice boxes (50% go in wastebaskets, postmasters say). No wasted circulation of any kind. The I-J's ABC-audited net circulation figure* stands for 100% paid-for, wanted circulation, delivered on the doorsteps of 5 out of 7 Marin homes.

Whether it's a 3-line want ad or a full page in color, your ad in the I-J is your best advertising buy.

*27,132 was the I-J's average daily net paid circulation for three months ending June 30, 1959, subject to ABC audit.

Don't Forget To Drive Safely When Schools Open Next Month

Summer's almost over. School starts soon. Will you drive carefully, please? Remember what happened last year? When school opened children were excited. They'd forgotten their safety rules. They were careless at intersections and along streets and highways. Drivers were careless too. They'd forgotten what it was like to have youngsters going to and from school. So some children were killed. Others were maimed. This happened in 1958. Will it occur again in 1959? Not if every driver is careful.

We parents have another responsibility. We should teach our children the safety rules they've forgotten. Teach them, starting now. Are your children small? Then take them to and from school a few times. Make sure they habitually cross intersections the right way. Be certain they know not to dart out on the highway. After school starts their teachers reinforce your instruction. Meantime it is your job, alone.

Will your boy ride a bike to school? Then he runs extra risks. Are you sure he won't be tempted to show off? Does he know to stay close in on the right hand side of the road? To walk across busy corners? Never to ride double? Always to signal for turns? Not to hook tows on trucks? Bikes are fun. But in modern traffic they're lethal. Be extra careful with your bike rider.

Will you transport your children to and from school in your car? Many parents do. Be sure you know where the passenger zone is located. Approach it from the right direction. Don't let your children out across the street and have them scamper over. Each year children are killed that way. And above all don't forget to drive carefully.

A though for today: Tolstoy said, "A man having no freedom can not be conceived of, except as deprived of life."

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Strike Hits Atom City

LOS ALAMOS, N.M. (AP) — A walkout by 600 workers at this atomic energy laboratory city, started as a sympathy action for a janitor, continued today.

No talks were scheduled between labor and management. One official said he expected no negotiations before Monday.

The strike by members of the various unions of the Zia Co., housekeeping firm for the city, stemmed from a claim brought by a janitor, Genaro Martinez, recently transferred to another job. Martinez contended the company discriminated against him for his activities in attempting to organize janitors into a union.

Run On Pennies

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—The Federal Reserve Bank here, which serves the Carolinas, has run out of pennies. Citizens got the mistaken idea that a new design contained an error, making the penny a collector's item.

The new design bears the legend "United States of America." The small "o" in the word "of" started the rumor of an error. But the sculptor who designed the penny said the small "o" was just to relieve monotony.

Fifteen tons of pennies—670 pounds equal $1,000—are being rushed here, but they are not expected to arrive until Monday.

Emergency Landing

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — An American Airlines 707 jet, en route from Los Angeles to Baltimore, made an emergency landing in Phoenix yesterday when a heating control system jammed.

Aboard were eight crewmen and 111 passengers, including FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover.

The plane landed safely. American officials said later there was no sign of fire.

Convict Transferred

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP)—A Nevada State Prison convict will be sent to California because he has tuberculosis.

The State Prison Board yesterday ordered Paul Farratt, a Winnemucca man sentenced for theft this month, transferred to a California institution under an interstate contract.

Warden Jack Fogliana said Nevada prison has no facilities to isolate men with contagious diseases.

Did As He Was Told

OROVILLE (AP) — When Pat Arellano, waiting to be booked into the county jail, asked to make a telephone call, busy deputies waved him toward the radio room.

There he was asked: "Are you a prisoner?"

Arellano, a 32-year-old barber, nodded.

"Then use the phone outside," he was told.

So Arellano walked outside and hasn't been seen since. He had been sentenced to 100 days for drunken driving.

Naval Shop Doomed

CHARLOTTE, S.C. (AP)—The Confederate Navy Yard naval ordnance shop in Charlotte—200 miles from the coast—is being demolished to make room for an automobile parking lot. The building's exact age is not known, but a woman whose father worked in it said the ordnance shop was moved here in 1862 from Portsmouth, Va., when Yankee forces threatened it there.

Red Gunboat Hit

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—A Nationalist Chinese warship tackled four Red Chinese gunboats in the Formosa Straits today, hitting one and setting it afire, the defense ministry here said.

They're Really Low

PARIS, Ky. (AP)—They're built low, those little sports cars. One left the road at a sharp curve, hit a wire fence and went right under it.

G. K. Norton of Wilmore was unhurt and his car was undamaged.

West Marin School Registration Set

Registration for initial attendance at the West Marin Schools will be held in Point Reyes Station's West Marin School Sept. 3 and 4, with opening of the school session Sept. 10.

Revenge Rape Sentence

JASPER, Ala. (AP)—A teen-age high school student has been sentenced to life imprisonment for raping his teacher's wife for revenge.

James Harold Herron, 17, was arrested March 24, a short time after Mrs. Erston Bonner said she was attacked.

The youth told police he raped the 26-year-old mother because he wanted to get even with her husband who had expelled him from school.

Gruesome Find

NEW YORK (AP) — Salesman Nat Finkelbrand, 53, returned home last night and noticed an array of food from the refrigerator neatly stacked on a kitchen table. Opening the refrigerator door, he found the jacknifed body of his daughter, Ann Marilyn, 19, clad in a pink bathing suit.

Police listed the death as apparent suicide.

Planetarium Show Proves Popular

"Men, Moons and Rockets," the current presentation at Morrison Planetarium in San Francisco's Golden Gate Park, has broken all previous summer attendance records, according to George W. Bunton planetarium manager.

Dealing primarily with rockets and satellites and man's continuing assault upon space, the show has particular appeal for armchair astronauts who have followed the progress at Cape Carnaveral, and are enxious for a personal opportunity to see a Vanguard, an Explorer, and Atlas and an X15 flash across the planetarium sky, said Bunton.

Shows are given daily, Tuesday through Sunday, at 2:15, 3:30 and 8:30 p.m., with an extra matinee performance at 1 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday. This record-breaker may be seen through Sept. 13.

New Devices Examine Man In 'Free Fall'

HEMPSTEAD, N. Y. (AP)—The Air Force can now give a man a continuous physical examination while it bounces him around from high to low altitude and back again.

The examination is conducted by electronic devices demonstrated at Mitchell Air Force Base, with Sgt. Richard P. Laauser the guinea pig.

Laauser was taken quickly to a simulated level of 65,000 feet, allowed to "free fall" back to 25,000, brought back to 40,000, and then rushed back up to 65,000.

The rapid changes had important effects on his heart action, rate and flow of breathing and body temperature, and these were monitored continuously by the new equipment.

The equipment, developed for the Air Force by Gultof Industries, Inc., Metuchen, N. J., is expected to help scientists gain still more knowledge of what really would happen to the human system in high-altitude and space flights.

State Fair Expecting Floral Entry Record

SACRAMENTO — With more than $58,000 offered in floriculture division cash premiums, including $7,000 for amateur entries, the 1959 California State Fair and Exposition promises to present one of the greatest displays of flowers, outdoor gardens, bonsai and other floral arrangements in its history, says Kenneth Fry, chief of the fair's bureau of exhibits.

Setting the pace for flower arrangements will be this year's garden theme, "Adventures in Living," in which clubs, flowers societies, individuals or other organizations will compete for top honors.

When the fair opens its 12-day run next Wednesday, the Hall of Flowers will have such floral themes as "Fat's in the Fire," featuring an outdoor living style with barbecue and dining facilities; "Search for Tomorrow," a design for a modern garden employing a background with pool or water effect; and "California Magic," a blend of Hawaiian, Oriental and modern touches in extending living space outdoors.

"New Look," will feature back yard living, serving the dual purpose of work and play.

Using a natural backdrop of foliage plants, "Reflections" is a floral scheme calling for the use of water in some attractive manner combined with a garden spot in a shaded location.

"Touch of Genius" in Japanese style and "Sitting Pretty," showing a terrace with custom-made seats and benches, both tailored to fit the landscape plan, are two more of the many other designs.

In addition to the major cash premiums, amateurs and professionals alike will be trying to win some of the many trophies and sweepstakes awards with what may well be a record

KQED Series To Describe Earth's Face

The earth's crust, the "thin skin of the apple" that is the world, is investigated by Dr. John W. Harbaugh, Stanford University geologist, in 10 television programs titled "The Face of the Earth," starting Monday at 10 p.m. over KQED (Channel 9).

Dr. Harbaugh will take the viewer on a world tour which includes the plain dirt in his back yard and the lofty heights of Mt. Kilimanjaro. He will point out such processes as erosion, folding, faulting, weathering and glaciation as forces that are constantly shaping the face of the earth.

To demonstrate his points, Dr. Harbaugh will use a "do-it-yourself" river; a rain machine and animated clay models of mountains, valleys and continents.

Guests from the Stanford University Geology Department will appear to help explain subjects in their fields of specialty. The program is produced for national distribution by KQED in cooperation with Stanford's geology department and speech and drama department.

Program titles are:

"Time and Tools" (Aug. 31); "Plain Dirt (Sept. 7); "Erosion (Sept. 14); "The River (Sept. 21); "Sculpture of the Land (Sept. 28); "Glaciation" (Oct 5); "The Seacoast" (Oct. 12); "Sedimentation" (Oct. 19); "Bending and Breaking" (Oct. 26); and "Mountain Building" (Nov. 2).

TREASURY OF MASTERPIECES

In one corner of the court of the Pitti Palace in Florence, Michaelangelo's famous "David" (in distance) faces Benvenuto Cellini's "Perseus." The city abounds in artistic treasures, and the Pitti is rightly rated as one of the world's great museums. It was in Florence that the Renaissance flowers. From its towers one gains a commanding view of the city and lush hills of Tuscany. Members of the Marin European tour group will visit Florence for three days in October. Cost of the tour, which is sponsored by the Independent-Journal, is $1,049.60.

YES, CASH CAME FROM BANK—BUT LEGALLY

Marvin Beard was really loaded. And that got him into trouble.

It wasn't so bad when Petaluma police picked up the 35-year-old Sebastopol carpenter early yesterday on a drunk charge. But when they found he was carrying $7,111 in cash in his pockets:

The Federal Bureau of Investigation hurried over to question Beard. So did Marin County sheriff's officers, still hunting unrecovered loot from the Point Reyes Station bank holdup last week.

Finally Beard was able to explain. He'd had a quarrel at home. So he drew his money out of the bank to have it with him.

Police released him with the advice, "Put it back in the bank."

Solons Say Classroom Teaching Gets Just Half Of School Funds

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A state Senate committee says that "barely over half" of school funds in California are spent for classroom teaching.

Almost 10 per cent of the money, the committee's report said, goes to certificated employees outside the classroom — superintendents, principals, coordinators, administrative assistants, counselors, nurses, librarians and the like.

The survey also found that their number has been increasing faster than the number of teachers.

A total of 51.2 per cent, or barely over half of current expense, goes towards teaching the classrooms, the report said. The non-classroom group gets 9.8 per cent of districts' annual funds and 14.9 per cent of the total salaries in both groups.

The Senate Special Committee on Governmental Administration had four recommendations in its report to the Legislature:

1. The state should require the use of an accounting system by school districts which clearly distinguishes between expenditures for classroom teaching and expenditures for other purposes.

2. Audits of school district accounts should be performed by the state Department of Finance.

3. On the basis of the recommended accounting system, the Legislature should examine each service offered in the schools for "its effectiveness and for its contribution to the educational process."

4. Consideration should be given to the elimination of services which make "a negligible contribution to instruction" or to the separate financing of some of the services.

The report was prepared for the Senate committee by Ben Rust, Richmond teacher and past president of the state Federation of Teachers.

The survey found that in 1920 the ratio of certified employees outside the classroom to those inside stood at 1 to 24. By 1957-58, the figure had climbed to 1 to 7.

"The growth is haphazard," the report said. "Usually the superintendent advises the board of education that there is a need for the employment of thus and thus personnel. State law usually has previously cleared the way.

"Any evaluation of the services of the administrator must be measured on a scale which also measures classroom instruction. This is the final and most complete test of the value of the services rendered.

"All instruction takes place in the classroom. What the student learns outside of the classroom (and it may be quite expensive) is incidental. The classroom is the precinct for the discipline of education."

Labor Council Joins Holiday Safety Plea

The Marin County Labor Council today joined the national AFL-CIO in a nationwide campaign to reduce traffic deaths and drownings over the Labor Day Weekend.

According to the National Safety Council, the weekend will claim the lives of about 400 persons in traffic accidents. One hundred swimmers will drown, and 12,000 motorists and pedestrians will suffer disabling injuries, according to the forecast.

"Labor Day accidents are a terrible waste of manpower," said Al DeMello, president of the labor council. "America is not just a body of land—it is people. To kill or injure workers is to rob this country of its most vital resource."

The council passed along the following life-saving tips for motorists:

1. Don't try to drive too far —400 miles a day should be the limit.
2. Cut your speed by at least 10 miles per hour after dark.
3. Don't drive if you drink.
4. Don't get "burned up" at other drivers.
5. Don't exceed the speed limit.

The council urged swimmers to never swim alone, even at a public beach, and not to swim until exhausted.

A government study found that annulment and divorce rates are highest and the probability of second and third marriages greatest among women who were wed for the first time at the age of 19 or younger.

New Apartments Open Sunday In Greenbrae

Corte Lenosa Apartments, a modern 10-unit development constructed by William H. McDevitt Co. of San Rafael, will open Sunday at 90 Corte Lenosa in the Greenbrae section of Larkspur.

Designed by San Francisco architect Jacob J. Van der Ploeg, the three-story development is in two buildings. One contains six apartment units and the other, at a slightly lower level, has four.

The structures overlook the Marin Catholic High School campus and have a view of Mt. Tamalpais. They are situated between Sir Francis Drake boulevard and the Bon Air apartment district.

McDevitt built them for Belmarin Co., a local investment firm, under a "package" agreement which included planning, construction and architect's services.

The new apartment houses have exteriors of dark brown stained redwood and white stucco. A charcoal accent delineates the stairway areas and outlines the room-sized decks of each apartment. Interiors are finished in white.

The all-electric kitchens have mahogany cabinets and beamed ceilings. Bathrooms are equipped with wall-to-wall mirrors and full-width dressing tables.

Sliding glass doors lead to the private decks of the two and three-bedroom apartments. Each unit has a theromstatically controlled heating system.

Auxiliary storage space is provided in the separate car stalls. The buildings are soundproofed throughout.

Time Extension Asked For Filing Tidelots

Paradise Park Investment Co. of San Rafael has applied to the Army Corps of Engineers in San Francisco for a three-year extension of time on the permit which authorized filling of tidelots on the shoreside of San Rafael-San Quentin road.

Any objection to the application must reach the engineers at 180 New Montgomery street by Sept. 25, and must be in writing in triplicate.

Lodge Will Honor 50-Year Member

Manny Charnow, former delicatessen owner and prime mover in Senior Citizens, will receive his 50-year jewel as a member of Odd Fellows Monday after a business meeting of Marin Lodge 200.

Charnow joined the local lodge 20 years ago and has been an Odd Fellow since 1909 when he joined in Brooklyn.

Mysterious Lights In Skies Baffle Northwest Residents

YAKIMA, Wash. (AP)—Lights in the high night sky, winking brilliant lights that show up exactly at 8:45 p.m., have been puzzling folks in Yakima off and on for more than two months.

Across the Cascade Mountains at Bremerton, Wash., the lights showed up Monday at exactly the same time. The only disagreement was on color. Yakimans say the lights are orange and white; Bremerton votes for red, green and white.

Fairchild Air Force Base at Spokane advised Yakima Aug. 20 the lights resulted merely from training exercises by jet refueling tankers from the 92nd Bombardment Wing.

But across the state, McChord Air Force Base was asked if the lights coud be jet tankers on refueling missions. "No," McChord replied. "We don't believe they are."

"What you see has been seen before, but we do not believe you can place the lights in the same classification with the 2 per cent unidentified flying objects that have been sighted in recent years," the McChord report added.

The lights first were noted here June 14. Observers said they were traveling at a tremendous rate of speed in the northern skies, moving from east to west. They have been seen several times since, always appearing at the same time.

A radar station at Othello, 70 miles east of Yakima, swept the skies each night for two weeks after the first sightings —with no results.

The mystery lights at Bremerton were seen from 8:45 until midnight. They were observed by sheriff's officers at several points in Kitsap County. These witnesses said the objects hovered noiselessly at 40,000 to 50,000 feet in the southern sky, sometimes giving the impression of motion.

Don Sherill, sheriff's dispatcher, said each light was "a dark object, more or less of a circle with a light at the exterior. The light was very brilliant and kept changing from red to green to white."

He said he notified Olympia headquarters of the Civil Defense air raid warning system and was told that similar lights had been seen above Centralia, 65 miles south of Bremerton, a week earlier.
